ATTACHMENT TO QUESTION 2 (d):

One set of comments was received during the comment period in response to the proposed legislative rule; from the West Virginia Insurance Federation ("WVIF").

A. WVIF submits the following comments by letter dated July 25, 2005 and received on July 22, 2005:

1. WVIF proposes that the use of the words employed and employee in the proposed language of Sections 7.1 and 7.2, respectively, may limit the application of the rule to insurers who employ producers and not cover insurers who utilize independent agents who are independent contractors. The Commissioner agrees with WVIF and therefore changes Sections 7.1 and 7.2 to read as follows:

7.1. No person having been convicted of a felony involving breach of trust or dishonesty or having been convicted under 18 U.S.C. § 1033 shall be ~~employed~~ engaged in the business of insurance in this state in any capacity without having first obtained a waiver from the commissioner or from the insurance regulatory official of the home state of the person in accordance with the provisions of 18 U.S.C. § 1033(e)(2) and this rule.

7.2. No insurer, producer, or any other person or independent contractor involved in the business of insurance in this state shall ~~employ, appoint, contract with, or permit~~ any prohibited person in any capacity to engage in the business of insurance without ~~having~~ first determining that the prohibited person has obtained a waiver in accordance with 18 U.S.C. § 1033(e)(2) and this rule.

RE: Comments – Proposed Administrative Rules
Title 114, Series 2

Dear Mr. Mullins:

These comments to the proposed amendments to 114 CSR 2 relating to "Licensing and Conduct of Individual Insurance Producers, Agencies and Solicitors" are submitted on behalf of the West Virginia Insurance Federation ("WVIF"), the state trade association for property and casualty insurance companies doing business in West Virginia.

Specifically, the WVIF has a narrow concern about the proposed language of Section 7.1. This rule provides that no person convicted of certain felonies shall be "employed" in the business of insurance without a waiver from the Commissioner. The use of the word "employed" does not appear to address insurers that market through independent agents who are independent contractors. Perhaps a better or more inclusive word would be "engaged" in the business of insurance.

This rule provides that no insurer shall "employ" any prohibited person. Again, this word is limiting. The WVIF suggests the use of the phrase "employ or appoint" in lieu of the word "employ."

If you have any questions or need additional information of any kind, please let me know.

Very truly yours,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Jill C. Bentz/sll".

LICENSING AND CONDUCT OF INDIVIDUAL INSURANCE
PRODUCERS, AGENCIES AND SOLICITORS

TITLE 114, SERIES 2

BRIEF SUMMARY OF RULE

This proposed amendment to the legislative rule at Series 2, "Licensing and Conduct of Individual Insurance Producers, Agencies and Solicitors," will address several producer (agent) licensing matters. It will expand the list of professional designations for which the required examination is not required as proof of competency; for instance, someone with a certification as a Certified Employee Benefits Specialist (CEBS) would be exempted from the examination requirements for obtaining a West Virginia insurance producer's license. It adopts the uniform definition of "limited lines license" for which neither an examination nor continuing education is required. Some reexamination provisions that predate the establishment of the continuing education requirements are repealed. The amendments also permit an agency producer to reinstate a lapsed license by paying a late fee in the same manner as is currently applicable to individual producers.

The amendment would provide a written procedure to govern the reinstatement of the producer's license of a person who surrendered such license upon employment with the Insurance Commissioner's office. The rule would also provide a procedure, including fees, regarding waivers for persons prohibited by federal law from holding employment in the insurance industry unless they obtain a waiver from their home state insurance regulator.

TITLE 114, SERIES 2

STATEMENT OF CIRCUMSTANCES

- The Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act ("GLBA," 15 U.S.C. 6701 et seq.), which was enacted by Congress in 1999, provides that unless a majority of states enacted uniform or reciprocal producer licensing laws within three (3) years (and maintained the required level of uniformity/reciprocity thereafter), the National Association of Registered Agents and Brokers (NARAB) would be authorized to license producers under its own criteria and these producers would be permitted to operate in each state outside the regulatory reach of the states' insurance commissions. The National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) was charged with certifying that the uniformity/reciprocity goals had been met and that it continues to be met; the first deadline was met after twenty-seven (27) states enacted the requisite legislation or regulations.

NAIC adopted the Producer Licensing Model Act in 2000; West Virginia adopted the model act in 2002, thus enabling this state to be counted among the majority seeking to stave off federal intrusion into the licensing sphere. The NAIC continues to issue standards to further the uniformity goals of GLBA, and West Virginia keeps pace by periodic changes to its licensing rules. The proposed amendments to Section 2 of Series 2 mirror standards adopted by the NAIC working group in 2004, and their promulgation will enable West Virginia to maintain the requisite level of uniformity/reciprocity for purposes of continued NAIC certification.

The amendments also address two situations that to date have been handled on an informal ad hoc basis, the reinstatement of licenses of persons who are required to surrender their licenses upon employment with the Insurance Commission and the process for requesting a waiver for persons convicted of certain crimes to permit their employment in the insurance business.
