TITLE 114, SERIES 81

BRIEF SUMMARY OF RULE

Senate Bill 418 (2005 RS) which became effective on July 8, 2005 added a new section (§33-2-15d) requiring that the Insurance Commissioner submit a report to the Legislature assessing the impact of legislation enacted during the 2005 regular legislative session upon rates and insurance availability in the state of West Virginia. This procedural rule is being drafted in accordance with §33-2-15d(b) to set forth the "analytical criteria and methodology of all factors" to be considered in preparing this report.

TITLE 114, SERIES 81

STATEMENT OF CIRCUMSTANCES

Senate Bill 418 (2005 RS), which added a new section to the insurance code (§33-2-15d) entitled "Report to the Legislature," provides that "the Commissioner shall submit a report to the Legislature" by January 1, 2007. This report must analyze the impact of legislation enacted during the 2005 regular legislative session upon rates and insurance availability in the State. Subsection (b) states that the "Insurance Commissioner shall by proposal of legislative or procedural rules, pursuant to article three, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code, put forth analytical criteria and methodology of all factors to be considered in the report." This procedural rule is being proposed to comply with this provision.

Fiscal Note Summary

Summarize in a clear and concise manner what impact this measure will have on costs and revenues of state government.

Senate Bill 418 (2005 RS), added a new section to the insurance code (§33-2-15d) entitled "Report to the Legislature," which provides that "the Commissioner shall submit a report to the Legislature" by January 1, 2007. This report must analyze the impact of legislation enacted during the 2005 regular legislative session upon rates and insurance availability in the State. The Insurance Commissioner's Research Director has estimated that the total number of man-hours required to create the analytical report for the Legislature is one hundred fifty (150). In addition to the Research Director, there will be costs for clerical staff to finalize the report.

Fiscal Note Detail

Show over-all effect in Item 1 and 2 and, in Item 3, give an explanation of Breakdown by fiscal year, including long-range effect.

Rule Title: Procedures for Analytical Criteria and Methodology - (Title 114, Series 81)

3. Explanation of above estimates (including long-range effect):
Please include any increase or decrease in fees in your estimated total revenues.

The above estimates are to cover the costs of creating the analytical report (as required by W. Va. Code §33-2-15d) of the impact of legislation enacted during the 2005 regular legislative session upon rates and insurance availability in the state of West Virginia. The Insurance Commissioner's Research Director has estimated that the total number of man-hours required to create the report is one hundred fifty (150). The estimate also includes additional costs for clerical staff to finalize the report.

This is a one time report and there should be no long-range effect.

MEMORANDUM

Please identify any areas of vagueness, technical defects, reasons the proposed rule would not have a fiscal impact, and/or any special issues not captured elsewhere on this form.

SERIES 81

PROCEDURES FOR ANALYTICAL CRITERIA AND METHODOLOGY

§114-81-1. General.

1.1. Scope. -- The purpose of this rule is to set forth the analytical criteria and methodology of all factors to be considered by the Insurance Commissioner in the report to the Legislature of the impact of certain legislation upon rates and insurance availability in the state of West Virginia.

1.2. Authority. -- W. Va. Code §§33-2-10 and 33-2-15d(b).

1.3. Filing Date. --

1.4. Effective Date. --

§114-81-2. Legislative Reforms To Be Studied.

2.1. The legislation to be considered in the report is contained in Senate Bill 418 that was enacted during the 2005 regular legislative session of the West Virginia Legislature. In particular, the study will focus on W. Va. Code §§33-11-4a, 33-11-4b and 33-11-6, which eliminated the private cause of action under the Unfair Trade Practices Act (W. Va. Code §33-11-4(9)) for unfair settlement practices by third parties and established an administrative procedure for review of such allegations by the Insurance Commissioner.

§114-81-3. Report Criteria.

3.1. The report will examine four dimensions of a well-functioning insurance market in order to assess the impact of the changes to the Unfair Trade Practices Act on the personal lines market, with a focus on cost and availability of automobile liability insurance.

a. Changes in premium rates that reflect underlying costs will be examined through rate comparisons for five major companies in the states bordering West Virginia. Also, rate changes for various types of drivers in several locations of the state, as shown in auto rate evidence from the Annual Auto Survey, published every April by the Offices of the Insurance Commissioner, will be evaluated.

b. Entry of new insurance companies and exit of non-profitable ones will be examined using the National Association of Insurance Commissioners' quarterly reports. This data will be used to compare the experience of West Virginia with the border states over the last four (4) years.

c. Product development will be examined in the context of new products offered in the relevant markets.

d. Availability of product will be examined by a study of commonly-available advertising pieces over the past four (4) years.

3.2. After changes in cost and availability are assessed, the data will be analyzed to evaluate the degree to which these changes, if any, are attributable to the legislative changes. This part of the report will be performed through the use of an observational study to estimate the degree of change in market conditions that is attributable to the change in West Virginia law. The observational study will attempt to control a number of relevant variables, including legislative and other legal changes in West Virginia and the bordering states affecting the insurance business environment as well as economic factors such as general price levels, investment performance and loss statistics.
