STATE LOTTERY RULES

A BRIEF SUMMARY of the PROPOSED RULE:

This is the fourth amendment to the original Lottery Legislative Rule which was filed initially in 1987 and approved during the 1988 Regular Session, and was amended during the 1991, 1994 and 1996 Regular Sessions. There are several minor changes.

The minor changes include:

1. Current Rule § 7.6 generally prohibits the assignment of West Virginia Lottery prize payments and lists certain exceptions. To comply with Senate Bill 18, exception §7.6.c is added.
2. Current Rule § 7.2 is amended to allow only "natural" persons to claim a West Virginia Lottery prize. This change is necessary to prevent a person or persons from forming a corporation for the purpose of claiming a prize thereby circumventing the requirement of W.Va. Code §29-22-11(c) that no West Virginia Lottery employee, commissioner or official, or members of their immediate households may purchase a West Virginia Lottery game or win a West Virginia Lottery prize. This change is also necessary to prevent a person or persons from forming a corporation for the purpose of claiming a prize thereby circumventing the requirements of Article 48A-2 of the West Virginia Code concerning child support and spousal support arrearages from lottery prizes.
3. New Rule § 4.4.k is added to prevent a former West Virginia Lottery retailer from obtaining a new license to sell lottery tickets until all debts to the Lottery are paid.
4. New Rule § 7.17 is added to allow the West Virginia Lottery to offset prize payments with debts of a lottery retailer who is also the prize winner.
5. New Rule §§ 4.3.a, 4.3.b and 4.3.c are added to require fingerprint checks for all new applicants and allow fingerprint checks for renewal of license situations.

STATE LOTTERY RULES

A STATEMENT of CIRCUMSTANCES WHICH REQUIRE THIS RULE:

1. The 1999 Regular Session enacted Senate Bill 18 which provides a structured method whereby a person receiving a certain kind structured payment may sell that income stream at a discount. Specifically included are West Virginia Lottery annuity prize payments. Current Rule § 7.6 generally prohibits the assignment of West Virginia Lottery prize payments and lists certain exceptions. To comply with Senate Bill 18, exception §7.6.c is added.

2. Natural persons are beginning to form corporations with separate tax ID numbers to avoid the public notoriety of claiming a lottery prize. The Commission fears this may also be done in the future to avoid the withholding of child and spousal support payments required by W.Va. Code §29-22-27a and W.Va. Code §§48A-2. There is a theoretical fear that persons who are prohibited from playing West Virginia Lottery games, such as West Virginia Lottery employees and members of their immediate households [W.Va. Code §29-22-11(c)], may use the corporate method of avoiding detection. To remedy this situation, rule §7.2 is amended.

3. The West Virginia Lottery has recently experienced difficulties in collecting a retailer debt from a person who ceased doing business as a West Virginia Lottery retailer while owing a sizeable debt to the Lottery. That same person is entitled to multi-million dollar annual prize payments. To allow a setoff right against prizes, new §7.17 is added.

4. To prevent a former lottery retailer from obtaining another license until his or her former debt to the West Virginia Lottery was satisfied, new §4.4.k is added.

5. The Criminal Identification Bureau of the West Virginia State Police has recently alerted the West Virginia Lottery that it may not be able to process fingerprint records for licensing background reports because the Lottery act nor the Racetrack Video Lottery Act nor the Limited Gaming Facility Act specifically require a background check using fingerprints as the identification basis. New subsections 4.3.a, 4.3.b and 4.3.c are added to require the fingerprint checks.

The West Virginia State Lottery Commission has prepared this proposed amended legislative rule and by its vote of April 30, 1999 has ordered the Director of the Lottery with the concurrence of the cabinet secretary of the Department of Tax and Revenue, to submit it to the public for its review and comment.

In the event a defective ticket is purchased, the only responsibility or liability of the Lottery is the replacement of the defective ticket game, or the issuance of a refund of the sales price. However, if the ticket is partially mutilated or if the ticket is not intact but it still can be validated by other validation tests, the Director may pay the prize for that ticket in his or her discretion.
