LEGISLATIVE RULE
DIVISION OF NATURAL RESOURCES

SERIES 23
REVOCATION OF HUNTING AND FISHING LICENSES

SUMMARY

This rule establishes the procedures to govern the revocation and restoration of hunting and fishing licenses and the assignment of points for violations of the hunting or fishing laws and rules. Currently, points are accumulated on fishing or hunting licenses individually. This change will combine the compilation of points into one data base and the individual will lose their hunting and fishing licenses for designated violations or amassed points. The rule further clarifies the intent to assign points of the highest point value when more than one charge results from a single incident.

CIRCUMSTANCE

Currently, points are accumulated on fishing or hunting licenses individually. This change will combine the compilation of points into one data base and the individual will lose their hunting and fishing licenses for designated violations or amassed points. This was requested by hunters and fishermen that see violators of the natural resources laws and rules continue to hunt or fish after having their hunting or fishing license revoked. This change is supported by a majority of those individuals participating in an annual survey that is conducted each March. This rule further clarifies the intent to assign points of the highest point value when more than one charge results from a single incident.
