Thank you very much for your assistance in this matter.

Very truly yours,

The above estimates are based on the assumption that the rule changes become effective in the current fiscal year (FY'05). There should be no significant change in the estimated costs associated with the Workers' Compensation Commission implementing rehabilitation plans or providing rehabilitation services thru 12/31/05. Subject to the governor issuing the proclamation set forth in chapter twenty-three, article 2C of the Code of West Virginia that terminates the Workers' Compensation Commission, the Insurance Commissioner must incur the costs associated with compiling and maintaining a list of qualified rehabilitation services professionals and their qualifications and areas of expertise and specialization, beginning on 1/1/06.

3. Objectives of this rule:

This rule establishes acceptable practices for the Workers' Compensation Commission, the Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employers or private carriers, whichever is applicable, related to assisting workers to return to suitable gainful employment after injury upon implementing a rehabilitation plan and providing rehabilitation services. Upon termination of the commission, the private carrier, and not the employer, will register objections and adjudicate claims matters related to rehabilitation plans and services on behalf of the employer in appropriate cases.

§85-15-2. Purpose of Rule; Cooperation.

2.1 It is a goal of the workers' compensation program to assist workers to return to suitable gainful employment after a compensable injury. The optimal goal of the rehabilitation process should be to achieve the goals of the priority hierarchy set forth in Section 4.1. In order to assist injured workers to return to such employment and to encourage and assist employers in providing suitable gainful employment to injured employees, it shall be a priority of the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, to achieve early identification of individuals likely to need rehabilitation services and to assess/evaluate the rehabilitation needs of these injured workers. It shall be the goal of the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, and all interested parties to return injured workers to employment which shall be comparable in work and pay to that which the individual performed prior to the injury. If a return to comparable work is not possible, the goal of rehabilitation shall be to return the individual to alternative suitable gainful employment, using all possible alternatives of job modification, restructuring, reassignment and training, so that the individual will return to productivity with his or her employer or, if necessary, with another employer. It is the shared responsibility of the employer, the employee, the physical rehabilitation service provider, the qualified rehabilitation professional, the treating physician(s) and the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, to cooperate in the development of a rehabilitation process designed to promote re-employment for the injured employee.

2.2. Every injured worker and his or her employer are required pursuant to this rule to participate in rehabilitation evaluations, and the development, implementation, and completion of rehabilitation plans. Additionally, the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, the injured worker, his or her employer, his or her treating physician(s), the physical rehabilitation service provider, and the qualified rehabilitation professional are required to share in the responsibility for the success of the individual injured worker's rehabilitation.

~~2.2.1.a. Injured workers who cooperate with the rehabilitation evaluation process, fully participate in authorized rehabilitation plans, and show satisfactory progress toward completion of the plan are~~ An injured worker who is fully participating in an authorized physical rehabilitation plan or in an authorized vocational rehabilitation plan for modified return to work, job search, training or other approved service, and who shows satisfactory progress toward completion of the plan is eligible to receive temporary total rehabilitation or temporary partial rehabilitation benefits. An injured worker who fails, without a showing of good cause, to participate in a rehabilitation evaluation, to participate in an authorized rehabilitation plan, or fails to show satisfactory progress toward completion of the plan, may be denied any applicable form of benefits or may have temporary rehabilitation benefits suspended effective the date the worker ended his or her participation in the rehabilitation plan, ceased to be cooperative in and/or comply with the rehabilitation plan, or ceased making satisfactory progress toward completion of the plan. The determination of whether a claimant is making satisfactory progress, within the meaning of this section, shall be within the sole discretion of the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable.

~~2.2.2.b.~~ In determining whether an injured worker has cooperated in and/or complied with the rehabilitative effort, the following standards are to be used:

~~a.1.~~ Whether medical, physical rehabilitation and/or and vocational opinion substantially concur that the treatment, service, or program is indicated to bring about a return to employment;

~~b.2.~~ Whether it is reasonably safe and not attended by unusual suffering or risk for the injured worker to participate;

~~c.3.~~ Whether it is likely that the treatment, service, or program will produce measurable physical and/or vocational improvement; and

~~d.4.~~ Whether a person of ordinary prudence and courage would participate in the treatment, service, or program for his or her own betterment, regardless of compensation.

~~2.2.3.c.~~ Employers who cooperate with the rehabilitation assessment/evaluation process and fully participate in authorized rehabilitation plans benefit from the rehabilitation process by minimizing the costs associated with work-related injuries. The Commission, Insurance Commissioner, or private carrier, whichever is applicable, must consider an employer's workers' compensation vocational rehabilitation record in assigning an experience rating if the employer is a subscriber ~~and in establishing and reviewing a security requirement if the employer is self-insured,~~ to the extent allowed by legislative rules governing ratemaking and underwriting practices and Chapter 23 of the West Virginia Code. Employer's cooperation regarding rehabilitation efforts and plans includes, but is not limited to: full participation in the rehabilitation evaluation, reasonable efforts to provide reemployment opportunities to injured workers upon full release or release with restrictions, reasonable efforts to provide assistance to the injured worker returning to transitional, part time, modified or alternate employment.

~~2.2.4.d.~~ This rule establishes the minimum standard for an employer providing assistance to an injured worker to return to employment; it is not intended to limit additional assistance an employer may provide a worker.

2.3. In making a ruling that a party has failed to cooperate or comply, the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, shall issue a protestable order. Where there are disagreements between the injured worker, the employer, or the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, so as to cause the filing of a protest, the parties are encouraged to utilize the mediation process provided for by W. Va. Code §23-5-9(b).

2.4. Physicians and other health care providers are also responsible for assisting and encouraging injured workers to return to suitable gainful employment and providing assistance to employers in determining accommodations for each injured worker. Physician and other health care provider cooperation regarding rehabilitation efforts and plans includes, but is not limited to: the rehabilitation evaluation, full participation in providing updated medical documentation pertaining to current and anticipated treatment plans and restrictions to the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, injured worker, employer, and other treating or consulting physician or other health care provider, encouraging and participating in communications between the injured worker and his or her employer, familiarity with the injured worker's essential job functions, cooperating with and timely responding to rehabilitation providers, and provision of medical documentation to assist in returning to transitional, part-time, modified or alternate employment. Failure by a physician or other health care provider to cooperate in rehabilitation efforts may result in suspension or termination of the physician or health care provider pursuant to W. Va. Code §23-4-3c.

2.5 Providers of vocational rehabilitation services and qualified rehabilitation professionals are encouraged to assist injured workers, employers, physicians and other health care providers to fully participate and cooperate in the rehabilitation process. The providers and qualified rehabilitation professional must be knowledgeable of all applicable legislative rules, exempt legislative rules, and statutory requirements that relate, in any way, to the provision of rehabilitation services. Failure of a vendor and/or a qualified rehabilitation professional to be fully cooperative in the rehabilitation process may result in suspension or termination of the vendor and/or qualified rehabilitation provider and/or his/her employer/primary contractor pursuant to W. Va. Code §23-4-3c.

The qualified rehabilitation professional must then decide and report in the form of a rehabilitation evaluation report, the format of which and method of transmission of which shall be approved by the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, as to whether the injured worker is likely to benefit from vocational rehabilitation services based upon the rehabilitation evaluation. The qualified rehabilitation professional must also report whether or not the evaluation was complete, and if not why not, and whether the injured worker, the injured worker's employer, or the injured worker's attending physician and other treatment providers cooperated in the process and must state the facts that form the basis of the conclusion.

5.3.2.b. The qualified rehabilitation professional must issue the rehabilitation evaluation report to the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, with copies to the parties within sixty (60) days of receipt of the referral. A proposed rehabilitation plan, signed by the qualified rehabilitation professional and preferably the injured worker, the injured worker's employer, may be included with the rehabilitation evaluation report. Upon receipt, the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, may approve the plan as submitted, request modifications to the plan, or request plan development. Failure to provide the rehabilitation evaluation report within sixty (60) days of receipt of the referral shall cause a 10% reduction in the agreed to fee due and owing the vocational rehabilitation service provider or the qualified rehabilitation provider. Failure to provide the rehabilitation evaluation report within ninety (90) days of receipt of the referral shall cause a 20% reduction in the original agreed to fee due and owing the vocational rehabilitation services provider and/or the qualified rehabilitation provider. Finally, failure to provide the rehabilitation evaluation report within one hundred twenty (120) days of receipt of the referral shall result in no payment for the referral and shall require the vocational rehabilitation services provider and/or the qualified rehabilitation provider to immediately return the referral to the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable.

5.3.3.c. The purpose of a rehabilitation plan is to clearly identify the return to work objectives and to describe action steps to assist the injured worker in returning to suitable gainful employment. The following standards apply.

5.3.4.d. The injured worker is an active participant in rehabilitation plan development.

5.3.5.e. The plan must be signed by the injured worker and the qualified rehabilitation professional for the plan to be implemented. Failure to sign a plan the injured worker has actively participated in developing, without good cause, as determined in the sole discretion of the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, shall cause the suspension of all benefits payable to the claimant until such time as the plan is signed. The claimant is not entitled to the lost benefits upon signing the plan. The Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, shall reject the proposed plan based upon the claimant's failure to cooperate if the claimant refuses to sign the plan and will thereafter, within fifteen (15) days of such acceptance or rejection issue a protestable order within fifteen (15) days.

5.3.6.f. The plan must clearly outline the specific goals and actions required to achieve the goals.

5.3.7.g. The plan must identify the respective responsibilities, if any, of the injured worker, the employer, the physician, the qualified rehabilitation professional, the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, private carrier or carriers, and other parties involved in the claim.

5.3.8.h. The time frames for completion of the plan must be specified.

5.3.9.i. The qualified rehabilitation professional must provide a plan justification explaining the need for rehabilitation services.

5.3.10.j. The qualified rehabilitation professional must provide plan rationale explaining how the goal was selected.

5.3.11.k. The qualified rehabilitation professional must describe placement prospects and earnings potential, if appropriate.

5.3.12.l. Criteria for completion and termination of the plan must be fully defined.

5.3.13.m. Costs associated with the services to be provided and the periods of temporary indemnity are to be listed in the plan.

5.3.14.n. The plan must be served upon the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, and all parties to the claim by the qualified rehabilitation professional.

5.3.15.o. A rehabilitation plan must require that all vocational rehabilitation services be delivered by providers ~~registered under the provisions of section 9 of these rules who are qualified rehabilitation professionals~~. Except with the prior consent of the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, no other providers may deliver vocational rehabilitation services to an injured worker under an approved rehabilitation plan. ~~The Commission's, Insurance Commissioner's, self-insured employer's or private carrier's, whichever is applicable, consent to utilize unregistered providers will not be given except upon a showing that an appropriate registered provider is not reasonably available to the injured worker.~~ To the extent it is economically and otherwise feasible, providers who are located in the injured worker's geographic area ~~and within the state of West Virginia~~ are to be given preference. In-state providers and out-of-state providers are both to be compensated pursuant to section 10 of these rules.

5.3.16.p. A rehabilitation plan that provides for vocational retraining must give preference to schools and training facilities located in the injured worker's geographic area, thereby reducing the need for the injured worker to travel extensively or to relocate. A plan may be denied by the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, if it concludes, in its sole discretion, that the plan requires the injured worker to travel excessively or to locations unreasonably distant from his or her home.

5.3.17.q. Any rehabilitation plan developed and implemented under this rule is subject to the seniority provisions of a valid and applicable collective bargaining agreement, or arbitrator's decision there under, or to any court or administrative order applying specifically to the injured worker's employer, and will further be subject to any applicable federal statutes or regulations.

5.4. The Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, shall enter a protestable order, within twenty (20) days of receipt of the finalized rehabilitation plan signed by the qualified rehabilitation professional and the injured worker.

§85-15-6. Implementation of the Rehabilitation Plan.

6.1. ~~Although~~ Until the termination of the Commission, an employer is permitted to object to the plan pursuant to section 5.4 of this rule; ~~However,~~ the implementation of the plan will proceed notwithstanding the objection. In the event that the employer is successful in challenging the plan, the employer's account will be adjusted to reflect the appropriate charge associated with the rehabilitation plan. In the event the plan has not been completed at the time of the ultimate decision on the protest, the plan will be modified, if necessary, to conform with the ultimate decision.

a. Upon termination of the Commission, the private carrier, and not the employer, will register objections and adjudicate claims matters on behalf of the employer in appropriate cases.

6.2. Upon request of any party or upon a determination by the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, may order the suspension, termination, or modification of a rehabilitation plan based upon a showing of good cause including, but not limited to:

~~6.2.1.a.~~ A changed in the injured worker's physical condition which does not allow the injured worker to continue pursuing the rehabilitation plan;

~~6.2.2.b.~~ The injured worker's ~~performance level~~ lack of satisfactory progress which indicates that he or she cannot complete the plan successfully;

~~6.2.3.c.~~ A finding that an injured worker is not cooperating with a plan;

~~6.2.4.d.~~ A finding that the rehabilitation plan is no longer necessary for the injured worker's re-employment;

~~6.2.5.e.~~ A finding that a change in economic conditions has caused the rehabilitation plan to be inappropriate.

~~6.2.6.f.~~ A finding that the injured worker's employer is not cooperating and the failure to cooperate is an impediment to plan completion shall result in plan modification as necessary to accomplish the rehabilitation goal.

6.3. All physical and/or vocational rehabilitation services must be delivered in accordance with the rehabilitation plan developed under section 5 of this rule. The Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, may authorize the qualified rehabilitation professional to monitor compliance with and progress under the rehabilitation plan. Once authorized, the qualified rehabilitation professional must contact the injured worker and all other participating parties on a regular basis to monitor compliance with and progress under the plan. Report of these contacts must be submitted to the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, in thirty (30) day intervals, unless otherwise directed by the Commission, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable. Failure to so report may result in the denial of payment for services provided during the thirty (30) days and thereafter until the required report is received.

6.4. In the event it is later determined the rehabilitation services provided will not meet the goal of the plan, the vocational rehabilitation service provider and/or the qualified rehabilitation professional must notify the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, and recommend plan modifications as appropriate.

6.5. If the injured worker is not compliant with the rehabilitation plan, or is not making satisfactory progress under the plan, the vocational rehabilitation service provider and/or the qualified rehabilitation professional must immediately notify the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable. The determination of whether satisfactory progress is being made shall be a collaborative effort involving the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, and the vocational rehabilitation services provider. Failure to notify the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, may result in a closing of the file, a mandated return of the file to the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, the finding of an overpayment to the vocational rehabilitation service provider and/or qualified rehabilitation service provider in an amount equal to the sum of all services provided to date on the file.

6.6. If, based upon reports of the qualified rehabilitation professional or other reliable evidence, the injured worker is not compliant with the rehabilitation plan, or is not making satisfactory progress under the plan, in the sole discretion of the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, all benefits payable to the injured worker may be suspended until such time as the injured worker becomes compliant or begins to make satisfactory progress under the plan.

§85-15-7. Payment of Indemnity Benefits.

7.1. In every case in which the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, authorizes physical and/or vocational rehabilitation services pursuant to a rehabilitation plan, and the implementation of that plan has begun, the injured worker shall, if otherwise appropriate under applicable law, receive temporary total rehabilitation disability benefits or temporary partial rehabilitation benefits as provided in W. Va. Code §23-4-9.

7.2. As part of a rehabilitation plan, an injured worker may return to work at an alternate, modified or transitional work assignment on a temporary basis. The duration of the temporary work must be determined on a case-by-case basis by the qualified rehabilitation professional and be justified in the rehabilitation plan.

~~7.2.1.a.~~ Whenever it is proposed that an injured worker return to work under section 7.2 of this rule, the employer, with the assistance of the qualified rehabilitation professional, must furnish the injured worker's treating physician, the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, and all parties to the claim a statement describing the work in terms that will enable the physician to relate the essential tasks, and other material job functions, of the job to the injured worker's functional abilities. The treating physician must then advise the qualified rehabilitation professional within fifteen (15) working days of receipt of information pertaining to the essential tasks of the job whether the injured worker is physically capable of performing the work described and/or what additional testing or information is required to make this determination. When the information is furnished to the treating physician and the employer, the qualified rehabilitation professional shall inform the treating physician that the failure to respond within the time allotted may result in the ~~Office of Medical Services Commission's, Insurance Commissioner's, self-insured employer's or private carrier's, whichever is applicable, review of the job description and~~ issuance of a functional ability opinion. The injured worker may consent to undertake the work assignment without the approval of his or her treating physician. In cases where the injured worker has no treating physician or in cases in which the treating physician has not fully cooperated in the rehabilitation process, the Commission's independent medical evaluator, including its Office of Medical Services, or the medical evaluator of the Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, may ~~review job~~

~~descriptions and~~ provide a functional ability opinion.

7.2.2.b. Upon undertaking employment under section 7.2 of this rule, the injured worker's temporary total disability benefits, if any, will be terminated and he or she may become eligible for temporary partial rehabilitation benefits, if applicable under section 7.3 of this rule. If the work impedes the injured worker's recovery to the extent that he or she cannot continue to work or if his or her compensable condition worsens due to the work being performed, the temporary total payments, if applicable, shall, if otherwise appropriate under applicable law, be resumed when objective medical documentation is presented to the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, directly relating the inability to work due to the compensable injury or results thereof. If the work ends or is no longer otherwise available, the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, shall decide whether the injured worker has sufficiently recovered to permit the injured worker to return to his or her usual job or to other available work, or if other rehabilitative services are required to return the injured worker to employment. Benefits will not be reinstated solely because of lay-off or unavailability of work. If the decision is that the injured worker cannot return to employment, temporary total rehabilitation benefits or temporary total disability benefits, whichever applicable and otherwise payable under applicable law, shall be reinstated, if otherwise appropriate, but only for the period authorized by law.

7.3. If the injured worker, pursuant to a rehabilitation plan, returns to employment with the same employer or a new employer in either a full time or part time capacity, and to either gainful employment or to a transitional, modified or alternate work assignment, pursuant to section 7.2 of this rule, and if the injured worker's average weekly wage earnings are less than the average weekly wage earnings earned by the injured worker at the time of the injury, then he or she shall, if otherwise appropriate under applicable law, be entitled to receive temporary partial rehabilitation benefits. The injured worker's average weekly wage earnings upon return to work for the purposes of section 7.4 will be the injured worker's actual gross earnings, as reported to the state tax department and the federal internal revenue service and substantiated by payroll documentation or other information as requested by the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, or private carrier, whichever is applicable.

7.4. Temporary rehabilitation benefits are calculated, as follows:

7.4.1.a. The temporary partial rehabilitation benefit is seventy percent (70%) of the difference between the average weekly wage earned at the time of the injury and the average weekly wage earned at the new employment, to be calculated as provided under W. Va. Code §23-4-9(d);

7.4.2.b. The temporary partial rehabilitation benefits are not subject to the minimum benefit amounts required by the provisions of W. Va. Code §23-4-6(b); and

7.4.3.c. The temporary partial rehabilitation benefits cannot exceed the temporary total disability benefits to which the injured worker would be entitled pursuant to W. Va. Code §23-4-6, -6d, and -14, during any period of temporary total disability resulting from the injury in the claim. The temporary partial rehabilitation benefits plan must be reviewed at least every ninety (90) days to determine if continuation of such plan is appropriate.

7.5. Temporary partial rehabilitation benefits are only payable during the implementation and successful progress toward completion of a rehabilitation plan. Upon termination of the plan, as provided for under this rule, or upon expiration of the plan, payment of all temporary partial and/or total rehabilitation benefits must be stopped regardless of the injured worker's level of wages.

7.6. Payments of temporary partial rehabilitation benefits for differences of five percent (5%) or less in the pre-injury average weekly wage and the new employment average weekly wage will not be made because the benefit gives no economic incentive to the injured worker and would be administratively too costly to administer.

7.7. The injured worker cannot receive both temporary total disability benefits and temporary partial rehabilitation benefits for the same time period.

7.8. The injured worker can receive both temporary partial disability benefits and permanent partial disability benefits for the same period of time. The limitations on rehabilitation benefits set forth in W. Va. Code §23-4-9 and the limitations on temporary total disability benefits set forth in W. Va. Code §23-4-6(c) are separate limitations and the receipt of rehabilitation benefits shall not be applied against the limitations on temporary total disability benefits. Likewise, the receipt of temporary total disability benefits shall not be applied against the limitations on rehabilitation benefits.

7.9. The aggregate award of temporary total rehabilitation or temporary partial rehabilitation benefits for a single injury shall be for a period not exceeding fifty-two (52) weeks. That is, an injured worker is entitled to 52 weeks of temporary total rehabilitation benefits and 52 weeks of temporary partial rehabilitation benefits. These limitations do not apply to rehabilitation awards made on or before July 1, 2003.

7.10. If payment of temporary total rehabilitation benefits is in conjunction with an approved vocational rehabilitation plan for retraining, the period of temporary total rehabilitation benefits may be extended for up to an additional fifty-two (52) weeks, but shall never exceed a total of one hundred four (104) weeks.

§85-15-8. Rehabilitation Closure Report.

8.1. The qualified rehabilitation professional authorized to assist the injured worker must file a rehabilitation closure report with the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, and all parties to the claim when it is determined that their involvement in the rehabilitation services are no longer necessary unless otherwise specified by the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable.

§85-15-9. Registration of Rehabilitation Providers.

9.1. Qualified rehabilitation professionals and other vocational rehabilitation vendors must register with the Commission ~~or Insurance Commissioner, whichever is applicable~~, using forms prescribed by the Commission ~~or Insurance Commissioner, whichever is applicable~~. Any rehabilitation provider who does not meet the requirements set forth in Rule 27 of Title 85 of the Code of State Rules cannot be accepted for registration.

a. ~~Upon termination of the Commission, no registration is required of qualified rehabilitation professionals who are certified case managers, certified rehabilitation counselors, certified disability management specialists, or certified rehabilitation registered nurses. These limited types of qualified~~ Qualified rehabilitation professionals are required to verify and provide proof of their certification or qualifications to the Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whomever services are provided under this rule, or to their third party administrator or managed care provider. In turn the Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, or their third party administrator or managed care provider is required to maintain this proof of certification or qualifications of the qualified rehabilitation professional.

9.2. ~~The Commission and upon the termination of the Commission, the Insurance Commissioner, must compile a list of registered qualified rehabilitation services professionals and their qualifications and areas of expertise and specialization~~

~~a.~~ The Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, must use only registered qualified rehabilitation service professionals in making rehabilitation referrals.

b. Rehabilitation services may also be provided by qualified rehabilitation professional employees of the West Virginia Division of Rehabilitation Services or qualified rehabilitation professional employees of the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable. In addition, rehabilitation services providers who are located outside of West Virginia and are in areas in which appropriate services are not frequently used may provide services under these rules on a case-by-case basis if otherwise qualified.

9.3. All rehabilitation services must be provided in accordance with rehabilitation plans implemented pursuant to these rules and must be monitored by the qualified rehabilitation professional employed by or under contract with the Commission or Insurance Commissioner or employed by the West Virginia Commission Division of Rehabilitation Services, or under contract with a self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable. The Commission, ~~or Insurance Commissioner~~, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, must remove or suspend from the ~~its~~ list of vendors any provider of rehabilitation services who knowingly fails to comply with the provisions of these rules or a rehabilitation plan, or engages in other practices in violation of W. Va. Code §23-4-3c. ~~Adherence~~ Adherence to all applicable Codes of Ethics, including, but not limited to the Codes of Ethics associated with the certifications listed in 85 C.S.R. 27-6-53.3 is required and a breach of any applicable ethical provision shall be grounds for suspension and/or termination of the provider's right to receive payments from the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier whichever is applicable.

§85-15-10. Payment for Physical and Vocational Rehabilitation Services.

10.1. The Commission or Insurance Commissioner, private carrier or self-insured employer whichever is applicable, will pay for physical and vocational rehabilitation services in accordance with the fee schedule in effect at the time the service is rendered, adopted by the Commission or Insurance Commissioner, whichever is applicable, pursuant to W. Va. Code §23-4-3 and otherwise as set forth in this rule. To the extent there are inconsistencies between the fee schedule and this rule, this rule shall govern. Only those physical rehabilitation services that are reasonable and necessary, in the sole discretion of the Commission, within the scope of the applicable rehabilitation plan, and otherwise meet the standards as outlined in Sections 3.7 and 2.2.2b of this Rule and 85 C.S.R. 287, ~~Section 9~~, can be reimbursed pursuant to these rules.

~~a. Upon termination of the Commission, self-insured employers and private carriers may contract for physical and vocational rehabilitation services with providers for fees other than contained in the fee schedule.~~

10.2. ~~The~~ Unless otherwise specified in a contractual agreement with a provider, the following services are considered overhead and the Commission or Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, will not pay for these services:

- ~~10.2.1.a.~~ Administrative and supervisory salaries and related personnel expenses;
- ~~10.2.2.b.~~ Office rent;
- ~~10.2.3.c.~~ Depreciation;

~~10.2.22.v.~~ Generating and keeping internal record keeping forms;

~~10.2.23.w.~~ Time spent on any administrative and clerical activity, including typing, copying, mailing, distributing, filing, payroll, record keeping, delivering mail, and picking up mail. This does not prohibit reimbursement for actual time spent writing/typing reports to the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable.

~~10.2.24.x.~~ Activities associated with counselors training, general discussions regarding office procedures, internal case file reviews by supervisors, meetings, and seminars;

cc. Upon termination of the Commission, self-insured employers and private carriers may contract for physical and vocational rehabilitation services with providers for fees greater or less than those contained in the fee schedule.

10.3. Any bill submitted to the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, must include the following information:

~~10.3.11.k.~~ Vendor number;

~~10.3.12.l.~~ Date of billing;

~~10.3.13.m.~~ An itemization of bills on Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, approved forms;

10.4. The expenditure for vocational rehabilitation shall not exceed twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) for any one injured employee. All services approved by the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, as part of a rehabilitation plan, or the development thereof, shall be included in the twenty thousand dollar ($20,000) limitation, including, but not limited to, the following:

~~10.4.1.a.~~ Vocational or on the job training;

~~10.4.2.b.~~ Counseling, including all services rendered by a vocational rehabilitation service provider and a qualified rehabilitation professional. Counseling provided by psychiatrist or psychologists shall not be included within the $20,000 limitation. QRP charges for dates of service on or before ~~the effective date of this rule~~ May 5, 2004, shall not be included within the $20,000 limitation;

~~10.4.4.d.~~ Job placement services;

~~10.4.5.e.~~ Other services approved in the sole discretion of the Commission, Insurance

Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable.

10.5. Temporary total disability benefits, ~~and temporary partial rehabilitation benefits, and physical rehabilitation services~~ are not to be included in the twenty thousand ($20,000.00) dollar limitation.

10.6. The Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, cannot reimburse providers for physical rehabilitation services which require prior authorization under the provisions of W. Va. Code §23-4-3, or any rule adopted there under, unless the physical rehabilitation services provider obtains prior authorization.

10.7. In order to obtain reimbursement for services rendered, including the costs of medicines and mechanical appliances or devices, physical and vocational rehabilitation services providers must submit a verified statement on forms (including in electronic format) prescribed by the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable. The forms must be filed with the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, within six (6) months after the service is provided or the medicines, mechanical appliances or devices are delivered. Failure to timely submit a reimbursement form bars the provider from any right of recovery from the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, or any other party including, among others, the injured worker, the applicable employer, or any of their third party health care insurers.

10.8. All physical and vocational rehabilitation service providers are prohibited from making any charge against an injured worker or any other person, firm or corporation for any service rendered as a part of a rehabilitation plan or as a result of a compensable injury. Nothing in this section prevents another agency of any governmental unit, person, firm, corporation, or other entity from agreeing to reimburse a service provider for services rendered.

10.9. In the event that an injured worker insists upon the delivery of a physical and/or vocational rehabilitation service after being advised in writing by the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, that the service has been determined not to be medically, physically, or vocationally necessary, the provider may charge the injured worker for the costs of such service notwithstanding the provisions of section 10.8, but only if the provider first informs the injured worker that he or she will be personally responsible for the costs of the service and informs the injured worker as to the amount of the charge. If the injured worker has other health care insurance which will pay for the service described in this section, then the provider may bill that insurer for the service and no provision of these rules prevents the provider from receiving reimbursement under the terms of the insurance policy.

10.10. "Without limiting the general nature of various statutes respecting criminal fraud, and by way of illustration and not in limitation, the following are deemed unlawful acts and practices:

- a. Billing for services not actually performed;
- b. Billing for expenses not actually incurred;
- c. Billing with incorrect dates of service;
- d. Offering consideration of any kind, including gifts, services or gratuities to Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, employees in exchange for or as a past reward for referring cases to the provider;
- e. Failing to close claims for rehabilitation services at the earliest practicable date when the claimant can no longer benefit from such services. The rehabilitation professional will be consulted before the claim is closed for the purpose of determining the earliest practicable date of closure;

f. Providing false information in any statement to the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, or forging or falsifying any record required to be kept by these Rules or any other statute or rule governing providers; and

g. "Rolling in" unreimbursable time or expenses by adding hours to billable time or expenses.

10.11. All providers and employers shall retain for five (5) years and provide to the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, on request and without a subpoena hard copies of the source underlying any bill, invoice, report, etc. submitted to the ~~Fund~~ Commission, Insurance Commissioner, private carrier or self-insured employer by electronic or other means.

§85-15-11. Trial Return to Work.

11.1. The provisions of W. Va. Code §23-4-7b regarding trial return to work have been reinstated and will be implemented by the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, until such time as the statutory provisions regarding trial return to work are terminated.

§85-15-12. Employer-Preferred Vocational Rehabilitation Services.

12.1. Prior to termination of the Commission, ~~Any~~ any employer who desires to contract directly with one or more preferred vocational rehabilitation providers to provide vocational rehabilitation services to its injured workers and require its employees to use the preferred provider(s), shall notify the Commission of its contract and designation on forms prescribed by the Commission. Such selected providers must be registered with the Commission as required by Section 85-15-9. Notwithstanding the employer's ~~right~~ ability to select a preferred provider, the Commission shall remain the sole referral authority. An employer may identify to the Commission claimants whom it wants to be considered for rehabilitation services.

~~12.2.a.~~ Upon motion by the injured worker or the employer, or upon its own initiative, the Commission may, with a showing of just cause, assign or reassign the injured worker to a qualified rehabilitation provider other than the provider designated by the employer. Such cause might include, but not be limited to, past or present family or social relationships between the injured worker and the employer's preferred rehabilitation services provider, common financial interests between the injured worker and the employer's preferred rehabilitation services provider, or evidence that the rehabilitation process or provider is not in compliance with this rule.

~~12.3.b.~~ All preferred vocational rehabilitation providers shall comply with this Rule and Commission's established guidelines, rules, regulations, and policies. Additionally, all preferred vocational rehabilitation providers shall utilize all reporting forms and reporting processes adopted by the Commission.

~~12.4.c.~~ A vocational rehabilitation provider must be in good standing with the Commission in order to be designated an/or maintain its designation as a preferred provider. Additionally, the preferred provider shall adhere to the Commission's fee schedule for reimbursement of expenses and any expenses which exceed the fee schedule shall be the sole responsibility of the employer.

12.2. Upon termination of the Commission, private carriers, who provide workers' compensation insurance to an employer, are not obligated to accept contracts with the employer's preferred vocational rehabilitation providers.

§85-15-13. Transfer to the Insurance Commissioner.

Upon termination of the Commission, responsibility for the regulatory enforcement of this exempt legislative rule shall transfer to the Insurance Commissioner to be administered in a manner otherwise consistent with chapter twenty-three of the West Virginia Code. All other provisions of this rule which have been rendered moot by, or are otherwise in conflict with Senate Bill 1004, shall be administered by the Insurance Commissioner in a manner consistent with chapter twenty-three of the West Virginia Code.

§85-15-134. Severability.

~~13.1.~~ If any provision of these rules or the application thereof to any entity or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity will not effect the provisions or the applications of these rules which can be given affect without the invalid provisions or application and to this end the provisions of these rules are declared to be severable.

RULE 15 – VOCATIONAL AND PHYSICAL REHABILITATION

ATTENDANCE SHEET

The Board is required to keep a list of individuals attending its meetings and of those who wish to address the Board

[illegible]

"Suitable gainful employment" means employment which restores the injured worker as closely as possible to his or her pre-injury physical demand level and pre-injury level of earnings at the time of injury, or, if this is not possible, suitable gainful employment means other work for which the employee is, or may become, suited by training, experience, or education, but not limited by his or her previous level of earnings.

WVARP endorsed a version of this definition previously; however, it was then altered before final presentation to the Board (specifically adding the physical demand level language which is not accepted by vocational rehabilitation professionals in practice). We suggest WCC consider amending to what was originally suggested.

"Suitable gainful employment" means employment which restores the injured worker as closely as possible to his or her pre-injury level of earnings. If that is not possible, suitable gainful employment means other work for which the injured worker is, or may become, suited by training, experience or education, but not limited by his or her previous level of earnings.

Injured workers who cooperate with the rehabilitation evaluation process, fully participate in authorized rehabilitation plans, and show satisfactory progress toward completion of the plan are eligible to receive temporary total rehabilitation or temporary partial rehabilitation benefits.

This portion of the Rule has been applied inconsistently by WCC staff. Some interpret it quite strictly/conservatively and others in the broadest sense paying Rehab TTD from the date the injured worker signs WCC's Rehabilitation Agreement form (which is also the way the OOI seems to interpret this Rule).

WVARP would simply like to see this Rule clarified and consistently applied. Two possibilities are:

1. A version that makes it clear the injured worker should receive Rehab TTD during the Rehabilitation Evaluation described in 85-15-5

An injured worker who cooperates with the rehabilitation evaluation process is eligible to receive temporary total rehabilitation benefits for a period not to exceed 60 days from the date on which a Rehabilitation Agreement is signed. An Injured worker who is fully participating in authorized physical rehabilitation plan or in an authorized vocational rehabilitation plan for modified return to work, job search or training and who shows satisfactory progress toward completion of the plan is eligible to receive temporary total rehabilitation or temporary partial rehabilitation benefits.

2. Or a version that makes it clear the injured worker should receive Rehab TTD only during a rehabilitation plan for specific services

An injured worker who is fully participating in authorized physical rehabilitation plan or in an authorized vocational rehabilitation plan for modified return to work, job search or training and who shows satisfactory progress toward completion of the plan is eligible to receive temporary total rehabilitation or temporary partial rehabilitation benefits.

Once referred to a vocational rehabilitation service provider or qualified rehabilitation professional, a qualified rehabilitation professional shall conduct a rehabilitation evaluation. In doing so, a qualified rehabilitation professional must: 1) conduct a personal interview of the injured worker; 2) contact, by telephone or otherwise, the injured worker's employer to ascertain return to work options and otherwise discuss the case; 3) obtain necessary input from the injured worker's attending physician and other treatment providers (with the written permission of the injured worker);

This portion of the Rule is creating an ethical quandary for QRPs as those ethical codes mandate following law/rule unless in conflict with ethical standards. This provision requires the QRP to obtain written permission from the injured worker yet WCC staff is telling QRPs that is not needed considering 23-4-7(b), West Virginia Code ("a claimant irrevocably agrees by the filing of his or her application for benefits that any physician may release to and orally discuss with the claimant's employer, or its representative, or with a representative of the commission, successor to the commission, other private carrier or self-insured, whichever is applicable" etc.).

This issue would be resolved by simply deleting "(with the written permission of the injured worker)"

a. Upon termination of the Commission, no registration is required of qualified rehabilitation professionals who are certified case managers, certified rehabilitation counselors, certified disability management specialists, or certified rehabilitation registered nurses. These limited types of qualified rehabilitation professionals are required to verify and provide proof of their certification to the Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whomever services are provided under this rule. In turn the Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, is required to maintain this proof of certification of the qualified rehabilitation professional.

WVARP recommends this proposed addition to the rule be deleted. While simplifying the registration and renewal process for CRCs, CDMSs, etc. is fully supported, there are several reasons to still require registration of all QRPs:

1. Presumably the Mutual is going to require the UPIN on bills submitted in the future- if an incoming CRC or CDMS is not required to register, where does he or she get that UPIN?
2. The Insurance Commission is going to want to be able to advise all QRPs on policy issues. If all QRPs are not registered, that will be difficult.
3. A list of all Qualified Rehabilitation Professionals should be readily available to carriers, self-insured employer and injured workers and 9.2 actually requires it- but if all QRPs are not registered, how can that be a complete list?

Adherence to all applicable Codes of Ethics, including, but not limited to the Codes of Ethics associated with the certifications listed in 85 C.S.R. 27-6.5

WVARP strongly endorses ethical behavior by rehabilitation professionals. WVARP recommends the following substitution in Rule 15 and refers the reader to changes recommended and explained in Rule 27:

Adherence to all applicable Codes of Ethics, including, but not limited to those listed in 85 C.S.R. 27-3.3

85CSR15: Insurance Commissioner Comments

Gentlemen - Below are the IC's initial comments on rules 6, 15 and 18. The IC is still in the process of reviewing these rules, as well as 11 and 12, and reserves the right to submit further comments regarding the same. We appreciate your cooperation during this arduous process.

Series 15

Comment regarding the term "insurance commissioner" as used in the transition language contained within the rule.

This rule appears to appropriately insert "transition" language where applicable, which generally required inserting "insurance commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier" where the WCC was referenced. It is assumed that the IC was included in this transition language because of the claimants which the IC will ultimately be responsible for under the various funds under SB 1004, such as the old fund, uninsured fund and adverse risk fund. While it is appropriate to include the IC in this "transition language" along with private carriers and self-insured employers, it should be clarified in the rule that the IC may (and most likely will) designate a TPA to administer the vocational and physical rehabilitation requirements as set forth in this rule (as well as all the other duties which are required to administer a claim). Therefore, 85-15-3.29 should be amended as follows:

3.29. "Insurance commissioner" means the insurance commissioner of West Virginia as provided in section one, article two, chapter thirty-three of the West Virginia Code, or any designated third-party administrator of the insurance commissioner.

Comment regarding payment for physical and vocational rehab. services under 85-15-10

85-15-10.1 discusses the fee schedule for physical and voc. rehab services pursuant to W.Va. Code 23-4-3. The rule states that the WCC or the IC will pay for these services in accordance with the fee schedule in effect at the time of service, which fee schedule is adopted by the WCC or IC. Then, subdivision a. states that self-insured employers and private carriers may deviate from the fee schedule in paying providers. This is in conflict with W.Va. Code 23-4-3(a), which states that "[t]he workers' compensation commission, and effective upon termination of the commission, the insurance commissioner, shall establish and alter from time to time, as it determines appropriate, a schedule of the maximum reasonable amounts to be paid to . . . providers of rehabilitation services . . . to injured employees under this chapter." This section can only be interpreted to mean that, upon termination of the WCC, the IC will maintain the schedule of maximum amounts to be paid to providers of rehab. services, and that self-insured employers, private carriers or the IC (or its designated administrator) cannot pay the rehab provider more than this amount. There does not appear to be any portion of SB 1004 which states that private carriers are permitted to deviate from this maximum schedule (of course, they could negotiate to pay less than the schedule amount, as the schedule is just a "ceiling"). Therefore, 85-15-10 should be amended to read as follows:

10.1. The Commission or, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, will pay for physical and vocational rehabilitation services in accordance with the fee schedule of maximum reasonable amounts in effect at the time the service is rendered, adopted by the Commission or Insurance Commissioner, whichever is applicable, pursuant to W. Va. Code §23-4-3 and otherwise as set forth in this rule. To the extent there are inconsistencies between the schedule and this rule, this rule shall govern. Only those physical rehabilitation services that are reasonable and necessary, in the sole discretion of the Commission, within the scope of the applicable rehabilitation plan, and otherwise meet the standards as outlined in Sections 3.7 and 2.2.2 of this Rule and 85 C.S.R. 28, Section 9, can be reimbursed pursuant to these rules.

a. Upon termination of the Commission, self-insured employers and private carriers may contract for physical and vocational rehabilitation services with providers for fees other than contained in the fee schedule.

Comment regarding the insertion of a transition "catchall" provision in this rule.

As this rule is a lengthy and detailed rule, it would probably be appropriate to insert a "transition section" into the rule similar to what has been done with the other rules. Therefore, a section should be added at the end of the rule as follows:

§ 85-15-13 Transfer to the Insurance Commissioner; provisions in conflict with SB 1004 inapplicable

Upon termination of the Commission, responsibility for the regulatory enforcement of this exempt legislative rule shall transfer to the Insurance Commissioner to be administered in a manner otherwise consistent with chapter twenty-three of the West Virginia Code. All provisions of this rule which have been rendered moot by, or are otherwise in conflict with Senate Bill 1004 are not applicable.

Ed Watson Comments rule 15

Once again, this is redundant - one or the other (see capped terms) should be deleted or it ain't no good English

3.6 "Suitable gainful employment" means employment which restores the injured worker as closely as possible to his or her pre-injury physical demand level and PRE-INJURY level of earnings AT THE TIME OF THE INJURY, or, if this is not possible, suitable gainful employment means other work for which the employee is, or may become, suited by training, experience, or education, but not limited by his or her previous level of earnings.

This does not look right - are there some circumstances where the Insurance Commission? I think you are trying to get at the fee schedule but you ended up in payments

10.1. The Commission or Insurance Commissioner, whichever is applicable, WILL PAY for physical and vocational rehabilitation services in accordance with the fee schedule in effect at the time the service is rendered, adopted by the Commission or Insurance Commissioner, whichever is applicable, pursuant to W. Va. Code §23-4-3 and otherwise as set forth in this rule.

5/6/05

ADHERENCE is misspelled.

Is there such an Agency as the Commission of Rehabilitation Services?

9.3. All rehabilitation services must be provided in accordance with rehabilitation plans implemented pursuant to these rules and must be monitored by the qualified rehabilitation professional employed by or under contract with the Commission or employed by the West Virginia Commission of Rehabilitation Services, or under contract with a self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable. The Commission or Insurance Commissioner, whichever is applicable, must remove or suspend from the list of vendors any provider of rehabilitation services who knowingly fails to comply with the provisions of these rules or a rehabilitation plan, or engages in other practices in violation of W. Va. Code §23-4-3c. Adherence to all applicable Codes of Ethics, including, but not limited to the Codes of Ethics associated with the certifications listed in 85 C.S.R. 27-6.5 is required and a breach of any applicable ethical provision shall be grounds for suspension and/or termination of the provider's right to receive payments from the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier whichever is applicable.

Please consider removing "(with the written permission of the injured worker)" because even though the CRC and other Codes of Ethics tell us we have to abide by the laws and rules of our State and there is a provision in 27 that requires QRP's to abide by the ethics of whatever certification we have (if any), WCC tells us to ignore the Rule for certain rehab referrals. Seems only fair to drop this phrase to let us keep our butts out a sling.

From §23-4-7(b) West Virginia Code

"a claimant irrevocably agrees by the filing of his or her application for benefits that any physician may release to and orally discuss with the claimant's employer, or its representative, or with a representative of the commission, successor to the commission, other private carrier or self-insured, whichever is applicable, from time to time, the claimant's medical history and any medical reports pertaining to the occupational injury or disease and to any prior injury or disease of the portion of the claimant's body to which a medical impairment is alleged containing detailed information as to the claimant's condition, treatment, prognosis and anticipated period of disability and dates as to when the claimant will reach or has reached his or her maximum degree of improvement or will be or was released to return to work. For the exclusive purposes of this chapter, the patient-physician privilege of confidentiality is waived with regard to the physician's providing this medical information to the commission, the employer or to the employer's representative."

From Rule 15

"9.3. Adherence (sic) to all applicable Codes of Ethics, including, but not limited to the Codes of Ethics associated with the certifications listed in 85 C.S.R. 27-6.5 is required and a breach of any applicable ethical provision shall be grounds for suspension and/or termination of the provider's right to receive payments from the Commission."

5.3.1.a. Once referred to a vocational rehabilitation service provider or qualified rehabilitation professional, a qualified rehabilitation professional shall conduct a rehabilitation evaluation. In doing so, a qualified rehabilitation professional must: 1) conduct a personal interview of the injured worker; 2) contact, by telephone or otherwise, the injured worker's employer to ascertain return to work options and otherwise discuss the case; 3) obtain necessary input from the injured worker's attending physician and other treatment providers (with the written permission of the injured worker);

5/9/05

What are you trying to say with "These limited?" Is "whomever" supposed to be "whenever?" (or am I just missing the point?)

§85-15-9. Registration of Rehabilitation Providers.

9.1. Qualified rehabilitation professionals and other vocational rehabilitation vendors must register with the Commission or Insurance Commissioner, whichever is applicable, using forms prescribed by the Commission or Insurance Commissioner, whichever is applicable. Any rehabilitation provider who does not meet the requirements set forth in Rule 27 of Title 85 of the Code of State Rules cannot be accepted for registration.

a. Upon termination of the Commission, no registration is required of qualified rehabilitation professionals who are certified case managers, certified rehabilitation counselors, certified disability management specialists, or certified rehabilitation registered nurses. THESE LIMITED types of qualified rehabilitation professionals are required to verify and provide proof of their certification to the Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, WHOMEVER services are provided under this rule. In turn the Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, is required to maintain this proof of certification of the qualified rehabilitation professional.

A fresh read suggests the "whomever" is to whom the services are provided and the options listed are the Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier. I was under the impression rehabilitation services are provided to the injured worker (within the confines of statutory limits of course).

I perceive disagreement within the Rehab Unit at WCC about when a Plan can be written. Certainly the Office of Judges has over the years repeatedly issued orders indicating eligibility starts as soon as the person meets with a QRP and signs a Rehab Agreement. I'd suggest you just eliminate what's in caps and leave Rehab Plans to job search, training or modified return to work

5-3-05 Draft
85CSR15

2.2.1.a. Injured workers who COOPERATE WITH THE REHABILITATION EVALUATION PROCESS, fully participate in authorized rehabilitation plans, and show satisfactory progress toward completion of the plan are eligible to receive temporary total rehabilitation or temporary partial rehabilitation benefits.

5/13/05

Consistency always helps

From the latest proposed version of Rule 15:

3.10. "Work Conditioning" Programs are typically but not always greater than two (2) and less than four (4) hours per day, five (5) days per week and for a period of four (4) to eight (8) weeks in duration.

3.11. "Work Hardening" Programs are typically but not always greater than four (4) and less than eight (8) hours per day, five (5) days per week, and a period of four (4) to eight (8) weeks in duration.

From Rule effective 02/2005:

c. Work conditioning will be attended two (2) to four (4) hours per day. Work conditioning and work hardening programs will be attended five (5) days per week. Program duration for either work conditioning or work hardening will not exceed four(4) weeks; however, the commission, on a case-by-case basis, may approve program extension.

TITLE 85
EXEMPT LEGISLATIVE RULE
WORKERS' COMPENSATION COMMISSION

SERIES 15
VOCATIONAL AND PHYSICAL REHABILITATION

§85-15-1. General.

1.1. Scope. -- This exempt legislative rule establishes the requirements and procedures to be followed by the West Virginia Workers' Compensation Commission, Insurance Commissioner, private carriers, parties to pending claims pending before the Commission, health care providers, vocational professionals, and others involved in the delivery or proposed delivery of physical or vocational rehabilitation services to claimants pursuant to W. Va. Code §23-4-9. Other types of health care services provided or proposed to be provided to injured workers under other provisions of W. Va. Code §23-4-3, are not within the scope of these rules.

1.2. Authority. -- W. Va. Code § 23-4-9(b) and (e). Pursuant to W. Va. Code Section 23-1-1a(j)(3), rules adopted by the Workers' Compensation Board of Managers are not subject to legislative approval as would otherwise be required under W. Va. Code Section 29A-3-1 et seq. Public notice requirements of that chapter and article, however, must be followed.

1.3. Filing Date. -- ~~April 5, 2004.~~

1.4. Effective Date. -- ~~May 5, 2004.~~

~~1.5. Repeal of former rule. -- Section 14.13, "Payment for physical or rehabilitation services, or appliances," of WV 85 CSR 1, "Administration Of The Workers' Compensation Fund," filed April 15, 1986, and effective July 1, 1986, is hereby repealed. To the extent any other provision of WV 85 CSR 1, "Administration of the Workers' Compensation Fund," filed April 15, 1986, and effective July 1, 1986, conflicts with this rule, then such provision is repealed and replaced by the provisions of this exempt legislative rule. WV 85 CSR 15, "Vocational and Physical Rehabilitation", filed April 12, 1994, and effective July 1, 1994, is hereby repealed and replaced by the provisions of this exempt legislative rule.~~

§85-15-2. Purpose of Rule; Cooperation.

2.1 It is a goal of the workers' compensation program to assist workers to return to suitable gainful employment after a compensable injury. The optimal goal of the rehabilitation process should be to achieve the goals of the priority hierarchy set forth in Section 4.1. In order to assist injured workers to return to such employment and to encourage and assist employers in providing suitable gainful employment to injured employees, it shall be a priority of the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, to achieve early identification of individuals likely to need rehabilitation services and to assess/evaluate the rehabilitation needs of these injured workers. It shall be the goal of the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, and all interested parties to return injured workers to employment which shall be comparable in work and pay to that which the individual performed prior to the injury. If a return to comparable work is not possible, the goal of rehabilitation shall be to return the individual to alternative suitable gainful employment, using all possible alternatives of job modification, restructuring, reassignment and training, so that the individual will return to productivity with his or her employer or, if necessary, with another employer. It is the shared responsibility of the employer, the employee, the physical rehabilitation service provider, the qualified rehabilitation professional, the treating physician(s) and the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, to cooperate in the development of a rehabilitation process designed to promote re-employment for the injured employee.

2.2. Every injured worker and his or her employer are required pursuant to this rule to participate in rehabilitation evaluations, and the development, implementation, and completion of rehabilitation plans. Additionally, the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, the injured worker, his or her employer, his or her treating physician(s), the physical rehabilitation service provider, and the qualified rehabilitation professional are required to share in the responsibility for the success of the individual injured worker's rehabilitation.

2.2.1.a. Injured workers who cooperate with the rehabilitation evaluation process, fully participate in authorized rehabilitation plans, and show satisfactory progress toward completion of the plan are eligible to receive temporary total rehabilitation or temporary partial rehabilitation benefits. (FIRST, THE RULE SAYS IF THE IW COOPERATES IN THE REHABILITATION EVALUATION PROCESS, WHICH IS DEFINED AND TIME-FRAMED IN THIS RULE, THE IW IS ELIGIBLE FOR TTD OR TPR. IN PRACTICE, WCC DOES NOT APPROVE TTD DURING THE REHABILITATION EVALUATION THOUGH ALJ ORDERS I HAVE SEEN HAVE CONSISTENTLY RULED TTD SHOULD BE PAID AT LEAST FROM THE DATE A REHAB AGREEMENT IS SIGNED. SECONDLY, THERE ARE SOME GRAMMATICAL ISSUES. I SUGGEST EITHER: AN INJURED WORKER WHO COOPERATES WITH THE REHABILITATION EVALUATION AND FULLY PARTICIPATES IN AND SHOWS SATISFACTORY PROGRESS TOWARD COMPLETION OF AN AUTHORIZED REHABILITATION PLAN IS ELIGIBLE TO RECEIVE... OR AN INJURED WORKER WHO FULLY PARTICIPATES IN AND SHOWS SATISFACTORY PROGRESS TOWARD COMPLETION OF AN AUTHORIZED REHABILITATION PLAN IS ELIGIBLE TO RECEIVE...) An injured worker who fails, without a showing of good cause, to participate in a rehabilitation evaluation, to participate in an authorized rehabilitation plan, or fails to show satisfactory progress toward completion of the plan, may be denied any applicable form of benefits or may have temporary rehabilitation benefits suspended effective the date the worker ended his or her participation in the rehabilitation plan, ceased to be cooperative in and/or comply with the rehabilitation plan, or ceased making satisfactory progress toward completion of the plan. The determination of whether a claimant is making satisfactory progress, within the meaning of this section, shall be within the sole discretion of the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable.

2.2.2.b. In determining whether an injured worker has cooperated in and/or complied with the rehabilitative effort, the following standards are to be used:

a.1. Whether medical, physical rehabilitation and/or and vocational opinion substantially concur that the treatment, service, or program is indicated to bring about a return to employment;

b.2. Whether it is reasonably safe and not attended by unusual suffering or risk for the injured worker to participate;

c.3. Whether it is likely that the treatment, service, or program will produce measurable physical and/or vocational improvement; and

d.4. Whether a person of ordinary prudence and courage would participate in the treatment, service, or program for his or her own betterment, regardless of compensation.

2.2.3.c. Employers who cooperate with the rehabilitation assessment/evaluation process and fully participate in authorized rehabilitation plans benefit from the rehabilitation process by minimizing the costs associated with work-related injuries. The Commission, Insurance Commissioner, or private carrier, whichever is applicable, must consider an employer's workers' compensation vocational rehabilitation record in assigning an experience rating if the employer is a subscriber and in establishing and reviewing a security requirement if the employer is self-insured, to the extent allowed by legislative rules governing ratemaking and underwriting practices and Chapter 23 of the West Virginia Code. Employer's cooperation regarding rehabilitation efforts and plans includes, but is not limited to: full participation in the rehabilitation evaluation, reasonable efforts to provide reemployment opportunities to injured workers upon full release or release with restrictions, reasonable efforts to provide assistance to the injured worker returning to transitional, part time, modified or alternate employment.

2.2.4.d. This rule establishes the minimum standard for an employer providing assistance to an injured worker to return to employment; it is not intended to limit additional assistance an employer may provide a worker.

2.3. In making a ruling that a party has failed to cooperate or comply, the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, shall issue a protestable order. Where there are disagreements between the injured worker, the employer, or the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, so as to cause the filing of a protest, the parties are encouraged to utilize the mediation process provided for by W. Va. Code §23-5-9(b).

2.4. Physicians and other health care providers are also responsible for assisting and encouraging injured workers to return to suitable gainful employment and providing assistance to employers in determining accommodations for each injured worker. Physician and other health care provider cooperation regarding rehabilitation efforts and plans includes, but is not limited to: the rehabilitation evaluation, full participation in providing updated medical documentation pertaining to current and anticipated treatment plans and restrictions to the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, injured worker, employer, and other treating or consulting physician or other health care provider, encouraging and participating in communications between the injured worker and his or her employer, familiarity with the injured worker's essential job functions, cooperating with and timely responding to rehabilitation providers, and provision of medical documentation to assist in returning to transitional, part-time, modified or alternate employment. Failure by a physician or other health care provider to cooperate in rehabilitation efforts may result in suspension or termination of the physician or health care provider pursuant to W. Va. Code §23-4-3c.

2.5 Providers of vocational rehabilitation services and qualified rehabilitation professionals are encouraged to assist injured workers, employers, physicians and other health care providers to fully participate and cooperate in the rehabilitation process. The providers and qualified rehabilitation professional must be knowledgeable of all applicable legislative rules, exempt legislative rules, and statutory requirements that relate, in any way, to the provision of rehabilitation services. Failure of a vendor and/or a qualified rehabilitation professional to be fully cooperative in the rehabilitation process may result in suspension or termination of the vendor and/or qualified rehabilitation provider and/or his/her employer/primary contractor pursuant to W. Va. Code §23-4-3c.

§85-15-3. Definitions.

5-3-05 Draft
85CSR15

3.2. "Commission" means the West Virginia Workers' Compensation Commission as provided for by W. Va. Code §23-1-1.

The objective of the work ~~(THIS TIME FRAME IS NOT ESSENTIAL TO THE DEFINITION AND CONFLICTS WITH RULE 20. THE EASY FIX IS TO DELETE THE LAST SENTENCE.)~~ conditioning program is to restore physical capacity and function to enable the injured worker to return to work. Programs are typically but not always greater than two (2) and less than four (4) hours per day, five (5) days per week and for a period of four (4) to eight (8) weeks in duration. ~~(THIS TIME FRAME IS NOT ESSENTIAL TO THE DEFINITION AND CONFLICTS WITH RULE 20. No higher numbered priority may be utilized unless the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, has determined all lower numbered priorities are unlikely to result in placement of the injured worker into suitable gainful employment. If a lower numbered priority is clearly inappropriate for the injured worker, the next higher numbered priority must be considered. The rehabilitation plan must explicitly state the reasons and rationale for the rejection of any lower numbered priority. The priorities are as follows:

- 4.1.1.a. Return to the same employer and pre-injury job;
- 4.1.2.b. Return to the same employer and pre-injury job with modification;

4.1.7.g. Enrollment of the injured worker in a retraining program which consists of a goal-oriented period of formal retraining designed to lead to suitable gainful employment in the labor market. (THIS ONE HAS BEEN WRONG SINCE 1994. EMPLOYMENT IS THE STATED GOAL OF THE FIRST 6. TRAINING IS NOT REALLY THE GOAL OF THE 7TH. IT SHOULD READ Employment following a retraining program.)

§85-15-5. Identification of Rehabilitation Candidates; the Rehabilitation Assessment/Evaluation Process.

5.1. The Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, may, in its sole discretion, determine whether a claimant would be assisted in returning to suitable gainful employment with the provision of rehabilitation services. (FOR REASONS I WILL NOT DETAIL HERE, I FEEL "IN ITS SOLE DISCRETION" SHOULD BE DELETED.)

5.2. The Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, may authorize a rehabilitation evaluation by a qualified rehabilitation professional of its sole choosing to determine whether physical and/or vocational rehabilitation services are appropriate for an injured worker. No provider is entitled to referrals from the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable. the The Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, is in no way required to adopt any referral method or system designed to include any or all of the vocational rehabilitation service providers or qualified rehabilitation providers, and the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, has the sole discretion in the assignment of any referrals for an evaluation, ~~unless the employer has designated one or more preferred rehabilitation providers approved by the Commission pursuant to W. Va. Code §23-4-9, or has contracted with one or more rehabilitation providers as a part of a managed health care plan pursuant to W. Va. Code §23-4-3.~~

~~(I SUGGEST THE STRIKE-OUT START SOONER, STRIKING OUT "FOR AN EVALUATION" SINCE CASES ARE REFERRED FOR TASK ASSIGNMENTS AS WELL.~~

5.3. The rehabilitation evaluation process is comprised of a series of steps, as set forth in the following subsections.

5.3.1.a. Once referred to a vocational rehabilitation service provider or qualified rehabilitation professional, a qualified rehabilitation professional shall conduct a rehabilitation evaluation. In doing so, a qualified rehabilitation professional must: 1) conduct a personal interview of the injured worker; 2) contact, by telephone or otherwise, the injured worker's employer to ascertain return to work options and otherwise discuss the case; 3) obtain necessary input from the injured worker's attending physician and other treatment providers (with the written permission of the injured worker) ~~(I STRONGLY RECOMMEND "I WILL THE WRITTEN PERMISSION OF THE INJURED WORKER" BE STRIKEN);~~ and 4) analyze information about the injured worker's medical, educational, vocational, social, legal, and economic circumstances, including present physical and mental ability to participate in vocational rehabilitation services. The evaluation may also include additional vocational testing if the qualified rehabilitation professional opines that the testing is warranted in order to provide a full evaluation and the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, preauthorized the additional testing. The qualified rehabilitation professional must then decide and report in the form of a rehabilitation evaluation report, the format of which and method of transmission of which shall be approved by the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, as to whether the injured worker is likely to benefit from vocational rehabilitation services based upon the rehabilitation evaluation. The qualified rehabilitation professional must also report whether or not the evaluation was complete, and if not why not, and whether the injured worker, the injured worker's employer, or the injured worker's attending physician and other treatment providers cooperated in the process and must state the facts that form the basis of the conclusion.

5.3.2.b. The qualified rehabilitation professional must issue the rehabilitation evaluation report to the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, with copies to the parties within sixty (60) days ~~(WITH THE COMPENSE NO REASON THIS CANNOT REMAIN TO WHAT IT WAS BEFORE, 45 DAYS)~~ of receipt of the referral. A proposed rehabilitation plan, signed by the qualified rehabilitation professional and preferably the injured worker, the injured worker's employer, may be included with the rehabilitation evaluation report. Upon receipt, the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, may approve the plan as submitted, request modifications to the plan, or request plan development. Failure to provide the rehabilitation evaluation report within sixty (60) days ~~(ALSO CHANGE TO 45 DAYS)~~ of receipt of the referral shall cause a 10% reduction in the agreed to fee due and owing the vocational rehabilitation service provider or the qualified rehabilitation provider. Failure to provide the rehabilitation evaluation report within ninety (90) days of receipt of the referral shall cause a 20% reduction in the original agreed to fee due and owing the vocational rehabilitation services provider and/or the qualified rehabilitation provider. Finally, failure to provide the rehabilitation evaluation report within one hundred twenty (120) days of receipt of the referral shall result in no payment for the referral and shall require the vocational rehabilitation services provider and/or the qualified rehabilitation provider to immediately return the referral to the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable.

5.3.3.c. The purpose of a rehabilitation plan is to clearly identify the return to work objectives and to describe action steps to assist the injured worker in returning to suitable gainful employment. The following standards apply.

5.3.4.d. The injured worker is an active participant in rehabilitation plan development.

5.3.5.e. The plan must be signed by the injured worker and the qualified rehabilitation professional for the plan to be implemented. Failure to sign a plan the injured worker has actively participated in developing, without good cause, as determined in the sole discretion of the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, shall cause the suspension of all benefits payable to the claimant until such time as the plan is signed. The claimant is not entitled to the lost benefits upon signing the plan. The Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, shall reject the proposed plan based upon the claimant's failure to cooperate if the claimant refuses to sign the plan and will thereafter, within fifteen (15) days of such acceptance or rejection issue a protestable order within fifteen (15) days.

5.3.6.f. The plan must clearly outline the specific goals and actions required to achieve the goals.

5.3.7.g. The plan must identify the respective responsibilities, if any, of the injured worker, the employer, the physician, the qualified rehabilitation professional, the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, private carrier or carriers, and other parties involved in the claim.

5.3.8.h. The time frames for completion of the plan must be specified.

5.3.9.i. The qualified rehabilitation professional must provide a plan justification explaining the need for rehabilitation services.

5.3.10.j. The qualified rehabilitation professional must provide plan rationale explaining how the goal was selected.

5.3.11.k. The qualified rehabilitation professional must describe placement prospects and earnings potential.

5.3.12.l. Criteria for completion and termination of the plan must be fully defined.

5.3.13.m. Costs associated with the services to be provided and the periods of temporary indemnity are to be listed in the plan.

5.3.14.n. The plan must be served upon the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, and all parties to the claim by the qualified rehabilitation professional.

5.3.15.o. A rehabilitation plan must require that all vocational rehabilitation services be delivered by providers registered under the provisions of section 9 of these rules. Except with the prior consent of the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, no other providers may deliver vocational rehabilitation services to an injured worker under an approved rehabilitation plan. The Commission's, Insurance Commissioner's, self-insured employer's or private carrier's, whichever is applicable, consent to utilize unregistered providers will not be given except upon a showing that an appropriate registered provider is not reasonably available to the injured worker. To the extent it is economically and otherwise feasible, providers who are located in the injured worker's geographic area ~~and within the state of West Virginia~~ are to be given preference. In-state providers and out-of-state providers are both to be compensated pursuant to section 10 of these rules.

5.3.16.p. A rehabilitation plan that provides for vocational retraining must give preference to schools and training facilities located in the injured worker's geographic area, thereby reducing the need for the injured worker to travel extensively or to relocate. A plan may be denied by the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, if it concludes, in its sole discretion, that the plan requires the injured worker to travel excessively or to locations unreasonably distant from his or her home.

5.3.17.q. Any rehabilitation plan developed and implemented under this rule is subject to the seniority provisions of a valid and applicable collective bargaining agreement, or arbitrator's decision there under, or to any court or administrative order applying specifically to the injured worker's employer, and will further be subject to any applicable federal statutes or regulations.

5.4. The Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, shall enter a protestable order, within twenty (20) days of receipt of the finalized rehabilitation plan signed by the qualified rehabilitation professional and the injured worker.

§85-15-6. Implementation of the Rehabilitation Plan.

6.1. ~~Although~~ Until the termination of the Commission, an employer is permitted to object to the plan pursuant to section 5.4 of this rule. ~~However~~, the implementation of the plan will proceed notwithstanding the objection. In the event that the employer is successful in challenging the plan, the employer's account will be adjusted to reflect the appropriate charge associated with the rehabilitation plan. In the event the plan has not been completed at the time of the ultimate decision on the protest, the plan will be modified, if necessary, to conform with the ultimate decision.

a. Upon termination of the Commission, the private carrier, and not the employer, will register objections and adjudicate claims matters on behalf of the employer in appropriate cases.

6.2. Upon request of any party or upon a determination by the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, may order the suspension, termination, or modification of a rehabilitation plan based upon a showing of good cause including, but not limited to:

6.2.1.a. A changed physical condition which does not allow the injured worker to continue pursuing the rehabilitation plan;

6.2.2.b. The injured worker's performance level which indicates that he or she cannot complete the plan successfully;

6.2.3.c. A finding that an injured worker is not cooperating with a plan;

6.2.4.d. A finding that the rehabilitation plan is no longer necessary for the injured worker's re-employment;

6.2.5.e. A finding that a change in economic conditions has caused the rehabilitation plan to be inappropriate.

6.2.6.f. A finding that the injured worker's employer is not cooperating and the failure to cooperate is an impediment to plan completion shall result in plan modification as necessary to accomplish the rehabilitation goal.

6.3. All physical and/or vocational rehabilitation services must be delivered in accordance with the rehabilitation plan developed under section 5 of this rule. The Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, may authorize the qualified rehabilitation professional to monitor compliance with and progress under the rehabilitation plan. Once authorized, the qualified rehabilitation professional must contact the injured worker and all other participating parties on a regular basis to monitor compliance with and progress under the plan. Report of these contacts must be submitted to the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, in thirty (30) day intervals, unless otherwise directed by the Commission, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable. Failure to so report may result in the denial of payment for services provided during the thirty (30) days and thereafter until the required report is received.

6.4. In the event it is later determined the rehabilitation services provided will not meet the goal of the plan, the vocational rehabilitation service provider and/or the qualified rehabilitation professional must notify the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, and recommend plan modifications as appropriate.

6.5. If the injured worker is not compliant with the rehabilitation plan, or is not making satisfactory progress under the plan, the vocational rehabilitation service provider and/or the qualified rehabilitation professional must immediately notify the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable. The determination of whether satisfactory progress is being made shall be a collaborative effort involving the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, and the vocational rehabilitation services provider. Failure to notify the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, may result in a closing of the file, a mandated return of the file to the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, the finding of an overpayment to the vocational rehabilitation service provider and/or qualified rehabilitation service provider in an amount equal to the sum of all services provided to date on the file.

6.6. If, based upon reports of the qualified rehabilitation professional or other reliable evidence, the injured worker is not compliant with the rehabilitation plan, or is not making satisfactory progress under the plan, in the sole discretion of the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, all benefits payable to the injured worker may be suspended until such time as the injured worker becomes compliant or begins to make satisfactory progress under the plan.

§85-15-7. Payment of Indemnity Benefits.

7.1. In every case in which the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, authorizes physical and/or vocational rehabilitation services pursuant to a rehabilitation plan, and the implementation of that plan has begun, the injured worker shall, if otherwise appropriate under applicable law, receive temporary total rehabilitation disability benefits or temporary partial rehabilitation benefits as provided in W. Va. Code §23-4-9.

7.2. As part of a rehabilitation plan, an injured worker may return to work at an alternate, modified or transitional work assignment on a temporary basis. The duration of the temporary work must be determined on a case-by-case basis by the qualified rehabilitation professional and be justified in the rehabilitation plan.

7.2.1.a. Whenever it is proposed that an injured worker return to work under section 7.2 of this rule, the employer, with the assistance of the qualified rehabilitation professional, must furnish the injured worker's treating physician, the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, and all parties to the claim a statement describing the work in terms that will enable the physician to relate the essential tasks, and other material job functions, of the job to the injured worker's functional abilities. The treating physician must then advise the qualified rehabilitation professional within fifteen (15) working days of receipt of information pertaining to the essential tasks of the job whether the injured worker is physically capable of performing the work described. When the information is furnished to the treating physician and the employer, the qualified rehabilitation professional shall inform the treating physician that the failure to respond within the time allotted may result in the Office of Medical Services Commission's, Insurance Commissioner's, self-insured employer's or private carrier's, whichever is applicable, review of the job description and issuance of a functional ability opinion. The injured worker may consent to undertake the work assignment without the approval of his or her treating physician. In cases where the injured worker has no treating physician or in cases in which the treating physician has not fully cooperated in the rehabilitation process, the Commission's independent medical evaluator, including its Office of Medical Services, or the medical evaluator of the self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, may review job descriptions and provide a functional ability opinion.

7.2.2.b. Upon undertaking employment under section 7.2 of this rule, the injured worker's temporary total disability benefits, if any, will be terminated and he or she may become eligible for temporary partial rehabilitation benefits, if applicable under section 7.3 of this rule. If the work impedes the injured worker's recovery to the extent that he or she cannot continue to work or if his or her compensable condition worsens due to the work being performed, the temporary total payments, if applicable, shall, if otherwise appropriate under applicable law, be resumed when objective medical documentation is presented to the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, directly relating the inability to work due to the compensable injury or results thereof. If the work ends or is no longer otherwise available, the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, shall decide whether the injured worker has sufficiently recovered to permit the injured worker to return to his or her usual job or to other available work, or if other rehabilitative services are required to return the injured worker to employment. Benefits will not be reinstated solely because of lay-off or unavailability of work. If the decision is that the injured worker cannot return to employment, temporary total rehabilitation benefits or temporary total disability benefits, whichever applicable and otherwise payable under applicable law, shall be reinstated, if otherwise appropriate, but only for the period authorized by law.

7.3. If the injured worker, pursuant to a rehabilitation plan, returns to employment with the same employer or a new employer in either a full time or part time capacity, and to either gainful employment or to a transitional, modified or alternate work assignment, pursuant to section 7.2 of this rule, and if the injured worker's average weekly wage earnings are less than the average weekly wage earnings earned by the injured worker at the time of the injury, then he or she shall, if otherwise appropriate under applicable law, be entitled to receive temporary partial rehabilitation benefits. The injured worker's average weekly wage earnings upon return to work for the purposes of section 7.4 will be the injured worker's actual gross earnings, as reported to the state tax department and the federal internal revenue service and substantiated by payroll documentation or other information as requested by the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, or private carrier, whichever is applicable.

7.4. Temporary rehabilitation benefits are calculated, as follows:

7.4.1.a. The temporary partial rehabilitation benefit is seventy percent (70%) of the difference between the average weekly wage earned at the time of the injury and the average weekly wage earned at the new employment, to be calculated as provided under W. Va. Code §23-4-9(d);

7.4.2.b. The temporary partial rehabilitation benefits are not subject to the minimum benefit amounts required by the provisions of W. Va. Code §23-4-6(b); and

7.4.3.c. The temporary partial rehabilitation benefits cannot exceed the temporary total disability benefits to which the injured worker would be entitled pursuant to W. Va. Code §23-4-6, -6d, and -14, during any period of temporary total disability resulting from the injury in the claim. The temporary partial rehabilitation benefits plan must be reviewed at least every ninety (90) days to determine if continuation of such plan is appropriate.

7.5. Temporary partial rehabilitation benefits are only payable during the implementation and successful progress toward completion of a rehabilitation plan. Upon termination of the plan, as provided for under this rule, or upon expiration of the plan, payment of all temporary partial and/or total rehabilitation benefits must be stopped regardless of the injured worker's level of wages.

7.6. Payments of temporary partial rehabilitation benefits for differences of five percent (5%) or less in the pre-injury average weekly wage and the new employment average weekly wage will not be made because the benefit gives no economic incentive to the injured worker and would be administratively too costly to administer.

7.7. The injured worker cannot receive both temporary total disability benefits and temporary partial rehabilitation benefits for the same time period.

7.8. The injured worker can receive both temporary partial disability benefits and permanent partial disability benefits for the same period of time. The limitations on rehabilitation benefits set forth in W. Va. Code §23-4-9 and the limitations on temporary total disability benefits set forth in W. Va. Code §23-4-6(c) are separate limitations and the receipt of rehabilitation benefits shall not be applied against the limitations on temporary total disability benefits. Likewise, the receipt of temporary total disability benefits shall not be applied against the limitations on rehabilitation benefits.

7.9. The aggregate award of temporary total rehabilitation or temporary partial rehabilitation benefits for a single injury shall be for a period not exceeding fifty-two (52) weeks. That is, an injured worker is entitled to 52 weeks of temporary total rehabilitation benefits and 52 weeks of temporary partial rehabilitation benefits. These limitations do not apply to rehabilitation awards made on or before July 1, 2003.

7.10. If payment of temporary total rehabilitation benefits is in conjunction with an approved vocational rehabilitation plan for retraining, the period of temporary total rehabilitation benefits may be extended for up to an additional fifty-two (52) weeks, but shall never exceed a total of one hundred four (104) weeks.

§85-15-8. Rehabilitation Closure Report.

8.1. The qualified rehabilitation professional authorized to assist the injured worker must file a rehabilitation closure report with the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, and all parties to the claim when it is determined that their involvement in the rehabilitation services are ~~(SHOULD BE "IS" NOT "ARE")~~ no longer necessary unless otherwise specified by the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable.

§85-15-9. Registration of Rehabilitation Providers.

9.1. Qualified rehabilitation professionals and other vocational rehabilitation vendors must register with the Commission or Insurance Commissioner, whichever is applicable, using forms prescribed by the Commission or Insurance Commissioner, whichever is applicable. Any rehabilitation provider who does not meet the requirements set forth in Rule 27 of Title 85 of the Code of State Rules cannot be accepted for registration.

a. Upon termination of the Commission, no registration is required of qualified rehabilitation professionals who are certified case managers, certified rehabilitation counselors, certified disability management specialists, or certified rehabilitation registered nurses. These limited types of qualified rehabilitation professionals are required to verify and provide proof of their certification to the Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whomever services are provided under this rule. In turn the Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, is required to maintain this proof of certification of the qualified rehabilitation professional. ~~WHILE SIMPLIFYING THE REGISTRATION AND RENEWAL PROCESS FOR CRCs, CDMS, ETC MAKES A LOT OF SENSE, THERE ARE SEVERAL REASONS TO STILL REQUIRE REGISTRATION OF ALL ORPs~~

~~I. I ASSUME THE MUTUAL IS GOING TO REQUIRE THE UPIN ON BILLS SUBMITTED IN THE FUTURE IF AN INCOMING CRC OR CDMS IS NOT REQUIRED TO REGISTER.~~

WHERE DOES HE OR SHE GET THAT OPIN?

2. I ASSUME THE INSURANCE COMMISSION IS GOING TO WANT TO BE ABLE TO ADVISE ORPs OF POLICY ISSUES. IF ALL ORPs ARE NOT REGISTERED, THAT WILL BE DIFFICULT.

3. A LIST OF ALL QUALIFIED REHABILITATION PROFESSIONALS SHOULD BE READILY AVAILABLE TO CARRIERS, SELF-INSURED EMPLOYERS, AND AND INJURED WORKERS AND IT ACTUALLY REQUIRES IT - BUT IF EVERYONE IS NOT REGISTERED HOW CAN THAT BE A COMPLETE LIST?

9.2. The Commission and upon the termination of the Commission, the Insurance Commissioner, must compile a list of ~~registered~~ qualified rehabilitation services professionals and their qualifications and areas of expertise and specialization

a. The Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, must use only ~~registered~~ qualified rehabilitation service professionals in making rehabilitation referrals.

b. Rehabilitation services may also be provided by qualified rehabilitation professional employees of the West Virginia Division of Rehabilitation Services or qualified rehabilitation professional employees of the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable. ~~In addition, rehabilitation services providers who are located outside of West Virginia and are in areas in which appropriate services are not frequently used may provide services under these rules on a case by case basis if otherwise qualified.~~

9.3. All rehabilitation services must be provided in accordance with rehabilitation plans implemented pursuant to these rules and must be monitored by the qualified rehabilitation professional employed by or under contract with the Commission or employed by the West Virginia Commission ~~(SHOULD BE "DIVISION")~~ of Rehabilitation Services or under contract with a self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable. The Commission or Insurance Commissioner, whichever is applicable, must remove or suspend from the list of vendors any provider of rehabilitation services who knowingly fails to comply with the provisions of these rules or a rehabilitation plan, or engages in other practices in violation of W. Va. Code §23-4-3c. Adherence ~~(MISSPELLING)~~ to all applicable Codes of Ethics, including, but not limited to the Codes of Ethics associated with the certifications listed in 85 C.S.R. 27-6.5 is required and a breach of any applicable ethical provision shall be grounds for suspension and/or termination of the provider's right to receive payments from the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier whichever is applicable.

§85-15-10. Payment for Physical and Vocational Rehabilitation Services.

10.1. The Commission or Insurance Commissioner, whichever is applicable, will pay for physical and vocational rehabilitation services in accordance with the fee schedule in effect at the time the service is rendered, adopted by the Commission or Insurance Commissioner, whichever is applicable, pursuant to W. Va. Code §23-4-3 and otherwise as set forth in this rule. To the extent there are inconsistencies between the fee schedule and this rule, this rule shall govern. Only those physical rehabilitation services that are reasonable and necessary, in the sole discretion of the Commission, within the scope of the applicable rehabilitation plan, and otherwise meet the standards as outlined in Sections 3.7 and 2.2.2 of this Rule and 85 C.S.R. 28, Section 9, can be reimbursed pursuant to these rules.

a. Upon termination of the Commission, self-insured employers and private carriers may contract for physical and vocational rehabilitation services with providers for fees other than contained in the fee schedule.

10.2. The following services are considered overhead and the Commission or Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, will not pay for these services:

~~10.2.1.a.~~ Administrative and supervisory salaries and related personnel expenses;

~~10.2.2.b.~~ Office rent;

~~10.2.3.c.~~ Depreciation;

~~10.2.4.d.~~ Office equipment purchase and rental;

~~10.2.5.e.~~ Telephone expense including long distance phone call charges;

~~10.2.6.f.~~ Postage

~~10.2.7.g.~~ Shipping;

~~10.2.8.h.~~ Expendable supplies;

~~10.2.9.i.~~ Printing costs;

~~10.2.10.j.~~ Copier costs;

~~10.2.11.k.~~ Printing of fiche and department electronic files;

10.4.1.a. Vocational or on the job training;

10.4.2.b. Counseling, including all services rendered by a vocational rehabilitation service provider and a qualified rehabilitation professional. Counseling provided by psychiatrist or psychologists shall not be included within the $20,000 limitation. 10.4.4.d. Job placement services;

10.4.5.e. Other services approved in the sole discretion of the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable.

10.5. Temporary total disability benefits and temporary partial rehabilitation benefits are not to be included in the twenty thousand ($20,000.00) dollar limitation.

10.6. The Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, cannot reimburse providers for physical rehabilitation services which require prior authorization under the provisions of W. Va. Code §23-4-3, or any rule adopted there under, unless the physical rehabilitation services provider obtains prior authorization.

10.7. In order to obtain reimbursement for services rendered, including the costs of medicines and mechanical appliances or devices, physical and vocational rehabilitation services providers must submit a verified statement on forms (including in electronic format) prescribed by the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable. The forms must be filed with the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, within six (6) months after the service is provided or the medicines, mechanical appliances or devices are delivered. Failure to timely submit a reimbursement form bars the provider from any right of recovery from the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, or any other party including, among others, the injured worker, the applicable employer, or any of their third party health care insurers.

10.8. All physical and vocational rehabilitation service providers are prohibited from making any charge against an injured worker or any other person, firm or corporation for any service rendered as a part of a rehabilitation plan or as a result of a compensable injury. Nothing in this section prevents another agency of any governmental unit, person, firm, corporation, or other entity from agreeing to reimburse a service provider for services rendered.

10.9. In the event that an injured worker insists upon the delivery of a physical and/or vocational rehabilitation service after being advised in writing by the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, that the service has been determined not to be medically, physically, or vocationally necessary, the provider may charge the injured worker for the costs of such service notwithstanding the provisions of section 10.8, but only if the provider first informs the injured worker that he or she will be personally responsible for the costs of the service and informs the injured worker as to the amount of the charge. If the injured worker has other health care insurance which will pay for the service described in this section, then the provider may bill that insurer for the service and no provision of these rules prevents the provider from receiving reimbursement under the terms of the insurance policy.

10.10. "Without limiting the general nature of various statutes respecting criminal fraud, and by way of illustration and not in limitation, the following are deemed unlawful acts and practices:

- a. Billing for services not actually performed;
- b. Billing for expenses not actually incurred;
- c. Billing with incorrect dates of service;
- d. Offering consideration of any kind, including gifts, services or gratuities to Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, employees in exchange for or as a past reward for referring cases to the provider;
- e. Failing to close claims for rehab services at the earliest practicable date when the claimant can no longer benefit from such services. The rehabilitation professional will be consulted before the claim is closed for the purpose of determining the earliest practicable date of closure;
- f. Providing false information in any statement to the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, or forging or falsifying any record required to be kept by these Rules or any other statute or rule governing providers; and

g. "Rolling in" unreimbursable time or expenses by adding hours to billable time or expenses.

10.11. All providers and employers shall retain for five (5) years and provide to the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, on request and without a subpoena hard copies of the source underlying any bill, invoice, report, etc. submitted to the ~~Fund~~ Commission, Insurance Commissioner, private carrier or self-insured employer by electronic or other means.

§85-15-11. Trial Return to Work.

11.1. The provisions of W. Va. Code §23-4-7b regarding trial return to work have been reinstated and will be implemented by the Commission, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, until such time as the statutory provisions regarding trial return to work are terminated.

§85-15-12. Employer-Preferred Vocational Rehabilitation Services.

12.1. Prior to termination of the Commission, ~~Any~~ any employer who desires to contract directly with one or more preferred vocational rehabilitation providers to provide vocational rehabilitation services to its injured workers and require its employees to use the preferred provider(s), shall notify the Commission of ~~is~~ its contract and designation on forms prescribed by the Commission. Such selected providers must be registered with the Commission as required by Section 85-15-9. Notwithstanding the employer's ~~right~~ ability to select a preferred provider, the Commission shall remain the sole referral authority. An employer may identify to the Commission claimants whom it wants to be considered for rehabilitation services.

~~12.2.a.~~ Upon motion by the injured worker or the employer, or upon its own initiative, the Commission may, with a showing of just cause, assign or reassign the injured worker to a qualified rehabilitation provider other than the provider designated by the employer. Such cause might include, but not be limited to, past or present family or social relationships between the injured worker and the employer's preferred rehabilitation services provider, common financial interests between the injured worker and the employer's preferred rehabilitation services provider, or evidence that the rehabilitation process or provider is not in compliance with this rule.

~~12.3.b.~~ All preferred vocational rehabilitation providers shall comply with this Rule and Commission's established guidelines, rules, regulations, and policies. Additionally, all preferred vocational rehabilitation providers shall utilize all reporting forms and reporting processes adopted by the Commission.

~~12.4.c.~~ A vocational rehabilitation provider must be in good standing with the Commission in order to be designated an/or maintain its designation as a preferred provider. Additionally, the preferred provider shall adhere to the Commission's fee schedule for reimbursement of expenses and any expenses which exceed the fee schedule shall be the sole responsibility of the employer.

12.2. Upon termination of the Commission, private carriers, who provide workers' compensation insurance to an employer, are not obligated to accept contracts with the employer's preferred vocational rehabilitation providers.

§85-15-13. Severability.

13.1. If any provision of these rules or the application thereof to any entity or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity will not effect the provisions or the applications of these rules which can be given affect without the invalid provisions or application and to this end the provisions of these rules are declared to be severable.

Gentlemen - Below are the IC's initial comments on rules 6, 15 and 18. The IC is still in the process of reviewing these rules, as well as 11 and 12, and reserves the right to submit further comments regarding the same. We appreciate your cooperation during this arduous process.

Series 15

Comment regarding the term "insurance commissioner" as used in the transition language contained within the rule.

This rule appears to appropriately insert "transition" language where applicable, which generally required inserting "insurance commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier" where the WCC was referenced. It is assumed that the IC was included in this transition language because of the claimants which the IC will ultimately be responsible for under the various funds under SB 1004, such as the old fund, uninsured fund and adverse risk fund. While it is appropriate to include the IC in this "transition language" along with private carriers and self-insured employers, it should be clarified in the rule that the IC may (and most likely will) designate a TPA to administer the vocational and physical rehabilitation requirements as set forth in this rule (as well as all the other duties which are required to administer a claim). Therefore, 85-15-3.29 should be amended as follows:

3.29. "Insurance commissioner" means the insurance commissioner of West Virginia as provided in section one, article two, chapter thirty-three of the West Virginia Code, or any designated third-party administrator of the insurance commissioner.

Comment regarding payment for physical and vocational rehab. services under 85-15-10

85-15-10.1 discusses the fee schedule for physical and voc. rehab services pursuant to W.Va. Code 23-4-3. The rule states that the WCC or the IC will pay for these services in accordance with the fee schedule in effect at the time of service, which fee schedule is adopted by the WCC or IC. Then, subdivision a. states that self-insured employers and private carriers may deviate from the fee schedule in paying providers. This is in conflict with W.Va. Code 23-4-3(a), which states that "[t]he workers' compensation commission, and effective upon termination of the commission, the insurance commissioner, shall establish and alter from time to time, as it determines appropriate, a schedule of the maximum reasonable amounts to be paid to . . . providers of rehabilitation services . . . to injured employees under this chapter." This section can only be interpreted to mean that, upon termination of the WCC, the IC will maintain the schedule of maximum amounts to be paid to providers of rehab. services, and that self-insured employers, private carriers or the IC (or its designated administrator) cannot pay the rehab provider more than this amount. There does not appear to be any portion of SB 1004 which states that private carriers are permitted to deviate from this maximum schedule (of course, they could negotiate to pay less than the schedule amount, as the schedule is just a "ceiling"). Therefore, 85-15-10 should be amended to read as follows:

10.1. The Commission or, Insurance Commissioner, self-insured employer or private carrier, whichever is applicable, will pay for physical and vocational rehabilitation services in accordance with the fee schedule of maximum reasonable amounts in effect at the time the service is rendered, adopted by the Commission or Insurance Commissioner, whichever is applicable, pursuant to W. Va. Code §23-4-3 and otherwise as set forth in this rule. To the extent there are inconsistencies between the schedule and this rule, this rule shall govern. Only those physical rehabilitation services that are reasonable and necessary, in the sole discretion of the Commission, within the scope of the applicable rehabilitation plan, and otherwise meet the standards as outlined in Sections 3.7 and 2.2.2 of this Rule and 85 C.S.R. 28, Section 9, can be reimbursed pursuant to these rules.

a. Upon termination of the Commission, self-insured employers and private carriers may contract for physical and vocational rehabilitation services with providers for fees other than contained in the fee schedule.

Comment regarding the insertion of a transition "catchall" provision in this rule.

As this rule is a lengthy and detailed rule, it would probably be appropriate to insert a "transition section" into the rule similar to what has been done with the other rules. Therefore, a section should be added at the end of the rule as follows:

§ 85-15-13 Transfer to the Insurance Commissioner; provisions in conflict with SB 1004 inapplicable

Upon termination of the Commission, responsibility for the regulatory enforcement of this exempt legislative rule shall transfer to the Insurance Commissioner to be administered in a manner otherwise consistent with chapter twenty-three of the West Virginia Code. All provisions of this rule which have been rendered moot by, or are otherwise in conflict with Senate Bill 1004 are not applicable.

Subject: Comments on rule 27

Gentlemen - Below are initial comments on rule 27 (qualified rehab providers).

General comment re: "registering" with the WCC/IC, and other duties of the IC in regard to QRP's

This rule confers a number of duties upon the IC which the IC is not sure are necessary under the new system. First, under 2.2, it appears that QRP's other than case managers, rehab counselors, disability management specialists and registered nurses need to "register" with the IC. The rule does not make it clear how this "registration" process will work, however. Additionally, the rule gives the IC the duty to review and or approve certain requisites of the "limited" QRP's, such as continuing education requirements and other certification requirements (see sections 6.2, 6.4 and 6.5). Finally, the rule requires the IC to provide hearings to QRP's who make a request for reconsideration of a denial of a QRP "certification" (i.e., a "registration" as a QRP?). This requirement in turn infers that QRP's will be applying for "certification" with the IC and that the IC will either accept or deny such application, etc.

A preliminary review of the relevant code sections under which this rule was promulgated (§§ 23-4-3, 23-4-3b and 23-4-9), does not indicate any specific mandate from the legislature in SB 1004 for the IC to be directly involved in the QRP process. Therefore, the initial thoughts of the IC are that this rule should state that, upon termination of the Commission, private carriers, self-insureds and the IC are required to use only QRP's for voc. rehab services, and set forth the applicable standards for QRP's, but not require QRP's to register or apply for any type of certification with the IC. The IC's only job would be to look into allegations that a private carrier or self-insured is not using a sufficiently "credentialed" QRP, per the standards set forth in this rule. However, it would be the duty of the carrier or self-insured to assure the rehab provider does meet the minimum standards in the rule.

The general "goal" of this transition in the IC's mind is to move as much towards a privatized, non-governmental WC system as is permitted within SB 1004, and we believe these changes to this rule would meet this goal. However, there likely should be some additional discussion on this topic (both in regard to the practical and legal issues involved in this rule), and we of course welcome any feedback.
