§126-4-4.6 Application for Reinstatement of Suspended or Revoked Teaching Certificates
06-16	Shawn Hawkins Principal Point Pleasant Intermediate Point Pleasant WV	4.6.a- After the 2nd sentence: The application for reinstatement shall be considered an application for initial license under W. Va. Code § 18A-3-10, and the applicant must therefore be fingerprinted for a criminal background check.	A/o	This is the procedure already used by the Office of Professional Preparation unless the Superintendent orders automatic reinstatement.
		4.6.c Also after 2nd sentence- The application for reinstatement shall be considered an application for initial license under W. Va. Code § 18A-3-10, and the applicant must therefore be fingerprinted for a criminal background check.	A/o	This is the procedure already used by the Office of Professional Preparation.
		Also, due to the severity of the legal or moral issue that leads to revocation, I would suggest once re-instated through an initial application (complete with background check) they be granted 21-1, 31-1 or 01-1 certificate that was revoked, if they meet current certification requirements. If the certificate was a five-year certificate 22-, 32-, 02-, then an initial is issued. The next renewal, after the three years, may be reflected on the certificate as the 22-, 32-, or 02-. If the certificate was permanent, after the initial three year period after re-instatement, the	NA/-	This process would be too complicated and is unnecessary. If the applicant is deemed fit to resume teaching, his or her license should be restored to its statue prior to suspension or revocation unless

		22-, 32- or 02- shall be issued as a five-year without causing additional coursework. After a total of an eight-year period, a permanent certificate may be re-issued if previously held.		the PPP/ State Superintendent imposes some condition or restriction on the certificate in individual cases.
