

Law Enforcement Training and Certification Standards

Summary of Proposed Changes to Title 149, Series 2

The members of the Law Enforcement Professional Standards (LEPS) Subcommittee, a subcommittee of the Governor's Committee on Crime, Delinquency and Correction, in recognition of the need to make necessary changes to the current rule to allow for the certification and training of West Virginia law enforcement officers to remain current with the best practices concerning such certification and training met April 22-23, 2014 to address proposed changes to this rule. As a result of the discussion of the subcommittee members, a quorum being present and it being the unanimous decision of those present as to each proposed change, a series of changes were set forth to the current rule.

The changes proposed set forth address definition related changes, the use of similar terms through the section addressing entry level training, the removal, as to listing within the rule itself, but keeping the standards/requirements in effect, as pertains to the tasks an entry level law enforcement officer needs to be able to perform on completion of his or her entry level training and the medical standards for admission into an entry level training program.

The changes proposed also address and clarify the process to be carried out concerning officers who are seeking to have their certification as an officer in this state reactivated as a result of a change in employment when certain circumstances exist as to the reason/s that the officer left his or her former law enforcement employer as well as the process by which the Subcommittee may, when necessary, subpoena records relevant to such reactivation reviews and adding the ability to subpoena such relevant records in matters pertaining to admission to an entry level training program and a review of an officer's certification as an officer in this state.

The changes lastly clarify the appeal process for an individual of a final decision of the LEPS Subcommittee to the Governor's Committee on Crime, Delinquency and Correction.
