TO DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

STATEMENT OF CIRCUMSTANCES

The following amendments to 149CSR3 are being proposed:

§149-3-1. General.

- 1.2.

That portion of W. Va. Code which authorizes the Governor's Committee on Crime, Delinquency and Correction to promulgate rules regarding law enforcement response to domestic violence has been updated.

§149-3-2. Purposes.

- 2.2.4.

A comma was added to this sub-section for grammatical correctness.

§ 149-3-3. Definitions.

- 3.1. and 3.2.

Terms and their definitions within these subsections have been removed, replaced and renumbered accordingly as a result of placing them in alphabetical order.

- 3.1.2., 3.1.3., 3.1.4. and 3.2.1.

Quotation marks were added to the following terms to clearly indicate that word or phrase which is being defined:

(1) Law enforcement agency, (2) Law enforcement officer, (3) Law enforcement official; and, (4) Credible corroborative evidence.

Statement of Circumstances

- 3.1.1.

Quotation marks were added to the term County to clearly indicate that word which is being defined. Language was also added to more correctly define what an individual county is.

- 3.1.5.

This subsection was previously numbered 3.1.4. and renumbered due to revisions in the section. Quotation marks were added to the term Municipality to clearly indicate that word which is being defined. The word "village" was added to the definition of municipality due to the fact that this state has incorporated villages within the geographic boundaries of the state that this rule may apply to.

- 3.2.3.

The definition for "family or household members" has been modified in a manner that more closely resembles the definition established in W. Va. Code. §48-27-204.

- 3.2.4. and 3.2.5.

The definitions for "domestic assault" and "domestic battery" have been modified to define the acts themselves.

- 3.2.6.d.

This subsection was previously numbered 3.2.2.d. and renumbered due to revisions in the section. A comma was added to this subsection for grammatical correctness.

§149-3-4. Protective Orders.

- 4.1.

A new subsection 4.1. has been added to this section. 4.1. clarifies what a protective order actually is. It was the desire of the Advisory Committee to provide guidance and outline what a protective order actually is in the subsection where that guidance would be most applicable (i.e. in the actual section which deals with "protective orders") for easy referencing by law enforcement officers and the general public.

- 4.1.1.

A new subsection 4.1.1. has been added to this section. 4.1.1. clarifies that a protective order does not actually have to be labeled "Protective Order" in order to be considered as such, and recognizes the fact that all states have varying names for the order itself; however, an order of similar purpose, regardless of the name, is to be treated as a protective order in the State of West Virginia.

Statement of Circumstances

- 4.1.2.

This subsection was previously numbered 4.1. and renumbered due to revisions in the section. Furthermore, technical modifications have been made to this subsection which do not change the original intent, but make the subsection more readable.

- 4.2.

Language was added to this subsection which clarifies that a protective order does not always remain in effect for the period of time stated in the order, and that there are circumstances which would allow the order to be enforced outside of the time parameters originally established in that order.

- 4.2.1.

A new subsection 4.2.1. has been added, replacing the existing 4.2.1.

The amended 4.2.1. establishes that a protective order may be extended beyond the time parameters established in the original order. Furthermore, those circumstances are more clearly outlined and indicated in 4.2.1.a. through 4.2.1.c.

- 4.2.2.

A new subsection 4.2.2. has been added, replacing the existing 4.2.2.

The amended 4.2.2. establishes that a protective order may not remain in effect for the full period of time stated in the order – and may be prematurely terminated. Furthermore, those circumstances are more clearly outlined and indicated in 4.2.2.a. through 4.2.2.b.

- 4.2.3.

This subsection has been deleted. It is the opinion of the Advisory Committee that amended subsections 4.1. and 4.2. have addressed this matter, and in clearer fashion.

- 4.3.

Language has been added to this subsection which clarifies the type of order being addressed in the subsection.

Statement of Circumstances

- 4.4.

Language has been added to and/or deleted from this subsection as a result of changes made to W. Va. Code which basically clarifies law enforcement responsibilities as they relate to protective orders issued outside the State of West Virginia (a "foreign" protection order). Furthermore, additions to this subsection create a standard that an officer may utilize when determining if a foreign protection order is valid.

- 4.4.1.

Language has been added to and/or deleted from this subsection which clarifies the standard that an officer may utilize when determining the validity of a foreign protection order. This standard is further expanded upon with the addition of 4.4.1.a.

- 4.4.2.

This subsection has been added to clarify that a protection order does not have to be "certified" to be enforceable.

- 4.4.3.

This subsection has been added to clarify that a protection order does not have to be "on paper" to be enforceable.

- 4.4.4.

This subsection has been renumbered accordingly. Furthermore, language has been deleted for consistency. Language has also been added which further clarifies the circumstances under which a protection order may be enforced.

- 4.5.

This subsection has been added. Language in this subsection affords the respondent every reasonable opportunity to be served, and to become compliant with, a protective order.

§149-3-5. Dispatcher Responsibilities.

- 5.1.

Pursuant to W. Va. Code §48-27-1102, language has been added to this subsection which clarifies and further identifies those entities/agencies which fall under the direction of 149CSR3, to include those communications and emergency operations centers which dispatch law enforcement officers that may not necessarily fall under the supervision of a law enforcement agency.

Statement of Circumstances

- 5.2.5.

Language has been added to this subsection in an attempt to afford the responding law enforcement officers with as much information as possible (prior to arriving at the scene or otherwise) regarding the incident.

- 5.2.6.

Confusing language within this subsection has been removed. The intent of this subsection is to direct the responding law enforcement officers to gather information regarding the “accused” – not the “accuser.” Furthermore, language has been added to this subsection in an attempt to afford the responding law enforcement officers with as much information regarding the accused as possible (prior to arriving at the scene or otherwise).

- 5.2.9. through 5.2.11.

The list occurring within the above-referenced subsections has been simplified.

Language has been added to this subsection in an attempt to afford the responding law enforcement officers with as much information regarding the circumstances of the incident as possible (prior to arriving at the scene or otherwise).

The list occurring within the above-referenced subsection has been renumbered accordingly.

A comma was added to this sub-section for grammatical correctness.

§149-3-6. Initial Law Enforcement Officer Response.

- 6.2.3.e. and 6.4.1.d.

Commas were added to these sub-sections for grammatical correctness.

- 6.3.1.

6.2.1. of this rule states that, “whenever possible, two law enforcement officers shall respond to a domestic [violence] call.” Modifications to this subsection have been made changing singular (officer) to plural (officers) for consistency throughout the rule.

Language has been deleted from this subsection, which simplifies the fact that the responding law enforcement officers should not reveal the callers name.

Statement of Circumstances

- 6.3.3.

Language has been added to this subsection, which further clarifies dispatcher responsibility regarding this circumstance. The intent of this subsection is to instruct the dispatcher to act as a source of communication between the responding law enforcement officers and the caller (if the caller is the subject of the call). Without this added language, dispatcher responsibility is vague.

- 6.4.1.a.

Language has been added to this subsection, which expands the responsibilities of responding law enforcement officers when establishing control of the scene. This language is necessary for safety purposes.

- 6.5.1.

Language has been added to this subsection, which expands the responsibilities of responding law enforcement officers when investigating the scene. This language is necessary to direct law enforcement officers to capture as much information/admissible evidence regarding the incident as possible.

- 6.5.8.

Language has been added to this subsection, which expands the responsibilities of responding law enforcement officers when investigating the scene. This language is necessary to direct law enforcement officers to capture as much information regarding the incident as possible.

- 6.6.4.

Language has been added to and/or removed from this subsection in an effort to more accurately reflect the current court structure as it relates to this rule.

§149-3-7. The Arrest Decision.

- 7.2.5.a., 7.2.6., 7.3.11., 7.5.3., 7.6.1., 7.6.2.a. and 7.8.1.

Commas were added to these subsections for grammatical correctness.

- 7.1.

Modifications to this subsection have been made changing suggestive language to mandatory as it relates to an arrest decision or a decision not to arrest, as well as the detail required in any subsequent reports to a “no arrest” decision.

Statement of Circumstances

- 7.2.3.

Language has been added to and/or removed from this subsection in an effort to more accurately reflect the current court structure as it relates to this rule. Further modifications have been made changing singular (officer) to plural (officers) for consistency throughout the rule.

- 7.2.4.

Language has been added to and/or removed from this subsection clarifying and expanding upon the circumstances under which an arrest may be authorized as it relates to this rule.

- 7.2.5.

Language has been added to and/or removed from this subsection in an effort to more accurately reflect the current court structure as it relates to this rule. This subsection has also been restructured (to include renumbering) in a manner that more clearly conveys to the officer when they have the authority to arrest an alleged perpetrator as that arrest relates to this rule.

A comma has been added to this subsection for grammatical correctness.

- 7.3.

Modifications to this subsection have been made changing suggestive language to mandatory as it relates to the factors an officer must consider when making an arrest decision.

- 7.4.

Language has been added to this subsection clarifying and expanding upon the circumstances under which an arrest should be made as it relates to this rule.

- 7.5.

Language has been added to and/or removed from this subsection which clarifies an arrest decision when one individual is deemed the "primary aggressor" in a domestic or family violence circumstance.

- 7.8.2.

Modifications to this subsection have been made changing singular (officer) to plural (officers) for consistency throughout the rule.

§149-3-9. Procedure when Arrest is not Authorized or, if Authorized, is not Made.

- 9.1.

Modifications to this subsection clarify language which may have inadvertently suggested that a large amount of information be included in the subject report.

- 9.1.3.

Language has been removed from this subsection which the Advisory Committee believed could potentially limit the amount and/or type of information (regarding victim services) conveyed to any particular victim of domestic violence.

§149-3-10. Other On-Scene Assistance to Victims and Dependents.

- 10.1.

Language has been added to this subsection which clarifies the length of time that an officer should stay on-scene at a domestic violence incident while victims or other persons require time to gather personal belongings.

- 10.2. and 10.4.

Modifications to these subsections have been made updating code cites.

- 10.7.1.

Modifications to this subsection have been made changing suggestive language to mandatory as it relates to the factors an officer must consider when making an arrest decision.

- 10.7.2.

Language has been added to and/or deleted from this subsection which clarifies and/or expands upon the action an officer must take given various circumstances involving custody matters of juveniles whose parent(s) are involved in domestic violence incidents. Language has also been added to this subsection which affords officers involved in these circumstances, other options to consider.

§149-3-11. Processing the Accused.

- 11.1.

Modifications to this subsection have been made changing suggestive language to mandatory as it relates to the charging of individuals arrested for violation of a protective order.

§149-3-12. Reporting.

- 12.1.

~~4.2.3.a. A divorce, separate maintenance, or annulment action between the same parties has been filed while the protective order is still in effect by its own terms as provided by W. Va. Code §§48-2A-3 and 48-2A-4.~~

4.3. An protective order issued in any county in West Virginia is in effect in all counties in West Virginia.

4.4. A protection Any protective order issued by another state, territory, or possession of the United States; Puerto Rico; the District of Columbia; or Indian tribe; a state of the United States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the United States Virgin Islands or any territory or insular possession subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, or an Indian tribe or band that has jurisdiction to issue protection orders shall be accorded full faith and credit and enforced as if it were an order of this state, whether or not the such relief ordered is available in this state, if there is probable cause to believe that it is a valid foreign protection order.

4.4.1. A protective order from another jurisdiction is presumed to be valid if the temporary or final order appears authentic on its face. There is probable cause to believe that a protection order is valid if it identifies both the protected individual and the respondent, and the order appears, on its face, to be authentic and currently in effect.

4.4.1.a. In circumstances whereby a written protection order is not presented, law enforcement officers may consider other credible information in determining whether there is probable cause to believe that the order exists and is currently in effect.

4.4.2. Presentation of a certified copy of a protection order is not required for enforcement.

4.4.3. For the purposes of this section, the protection order may be inscribed on any tangible medium or may have been stored in an electronic or other medium if it is retrievable in perceivable form.

4.4.4.5. A protection ~~protective~~ order, temporary or final, from another jurisdiction may be enforced even if the order is not registered, filed or entered into the state law enforcement information system.

4.5. If a law-enforcement officer determines that an otherwise valid protective order cannot be enforced because the respondent has not been notified of or served with the order, the officer shall inform the respondent of the order. The officer shall make a reasonable effort to serve the order upon the respondent. The officer shall allow the respondent a reasonable opportunity to comply with the order. The officer shall then enforce the order.

§149-3-5. Dispatcher Responsibilities.

5.1. Dispatchers under the supervision of a police department ~~or who serve multiple police departments and~~ communications and emergency operations centers which dispatch law enforcement officers, shall dispatch domestic calls in the same manner as any other call for police assistance, in accordance with the priority criteria prescribed by generally applicable department procedures. Whenever possible, the dispatcher should assign a back-up unit.

5.2. The dispatcher receiving a domestic call should attempt to elicit from the caller, and should communicate to the responding law enforcement officers, as much of the following information, in the following order of importance, as time and exigencies of the reported incident allow:

5.2.1. The nature of the incident;

5.2.2. The address of the incident, including the apartment number or the name of the business, as appropriate;

5.2.3. A telephone number where the caller can be called back;

5.2.4. Whether weapons are involved;

5.2.5. Whether or not there are any injuries and whether or not an ambulance is needed;

5.2.6. A description of the accused and ~~W~~whether or not the accused is present and, if not, the ~~accuser's description, most likely location,~~ direction of flight, and mode of travel of the accused;

5.2.7. Whether children are at the scene;

5.2.8. Whether any party is using or is under the influence of alcohol or drugs;

5.2.9. Whether a protective order is in effect; ~~and~~

5.2.10. ~~w~~Whether an affidavit to enter the premises exists;

5.2.11. If the caller is the victim and in the house, would they consent to entry and how the caller may indicate the premises:

5.2.4012. Whether a criminal warrant is outstanding on the accused; and,

5.2.4113. Whether the accused has been released on bail on a charge of a crime against a family or household member, including a family or household member who is a child, with any conditions on bail regarding contact with the victim or complainant.

5.3. If the caller is the victim, or if the caller is a witness to a domestic incident in progress, the dispatcher should keep the caller on the telephone and should relay ongoing information provided by the caller to the responding law enforcement officers. The dispatcher should tell the caller that help is on the way and when the caller can expect the police to arrive.

5.4. If the dispatcher has ready access to police department records that indicate whether the parties involved in the incident have been involved previously in domestic incidents or that indicate whether there is a protective order involving the parties in effect, the dispatcher should consult the records and radio any relevant information to the responding law enforcement officers.

5.5. If the dispatcher has reason to believe that the subject is on bail for a crime against a family or household member, including a family or household member who is a child, and if the dispatcher has ready access to magistrate court records that show whether there are conditions of bail, the dispatcher should consult the records and radio any relevant information to the responding law enforcement officers; including a protective order prohibiting the possession of firearms.

§149-3-6. Initial Law Enforcement Officer Response.

6.1. A law enforcement agency, under WV Code §48-27-601, shall immediately follow its procedures for investigating a missing person if the agency:

6.1.a. Has possession of a valid protective order, or has notice of the existence of a protective order which is in effect, or has been expired for a period of less than thirty (30) days, and receives a report that a person protected by the order has been reported to be missing; or,

6.1.b. Receives a missing person report accompanied by a sworn affidavit that the person at the time of the alleged disappearance was being subjected to treatment, which constitutes domestic battery or assault as defined in subdivisions 3.2.4 and 3.2.5 of this rule.

6.1.2. An agency or department shall not have a policy delaying the beginning of an investigation of a missing person, which meets the criteria outlined in this subsection.

6.2. Approaching the scene.

6.2.1. Whenever possible, two law enforcement officers shall respond to a domestic call. The responding law enforcement officers should approach the scene of a domestic incident as one of high risk.

6.2.2. The law enforcement officers should obtain all available information from the dispatcher before arriving at the scene and should notify the dispatcher upon arrival.

6.2.3. Unless the circumstances of a particular incident require different measures, the law enforcement officers should follow the approach procedures set out in the remainder of this section. The law enforcement officers should:

6.2.3.a. Approach the scene inconspicuously. The law enforcement officers should not use sirens or lights in the immediate area of the scene of the incident;

6.2.3.b. Park away from the immediate scene of the incident;

6.2.3.c. Keep a safe exit route in mind;

6.2.3.d. Be alert for the employment of weapons from doors, windows, or nearby vehicles;

6.2.3.e. Be alert for persons moving away from the immediate scene of the incident; and,

6.2.3.f. Employ other standard precautionary measures for approaching high risk incident scenes.

6.3. Initial contact.

6.3.1. The responding law enforcement officers should identify ~~himself or herself themselves~~, explain the law enforcement officer's presence, and request entry into the home or business. The law enforcement officers should ask to see the person who is the subject of the call. ~~If the person who called the police is someone other than the subject of the call, the law enforcement officers should not reveal the caller's name.~~

6.3.2. The law enforcement officers may enter and conduct a search of the premises relevant to the incident if written or verbal consent has been given to do so. If a domestic relations protective order is in effect, written consent to enter may have been given by the victim and be on file. The law enforcement officers shall limit the search to a search for other suspects, victims, witnesses, or evidence connected with the alleged domestic incident.

6.3.3. If refused entry, the law enforcement officers should be persistent about seeing and speaking alone with subject of the call. If access to the subject is refused, the law enforcement officers should request the dispatcher to contact the caller if the caller is the subject of the call and communicate between the law enforcement officers and the caller. If the law enforcement officers leave the scene, the law enforcement officers should drive by premises and observe it frequently. If the law enforcement officers remain to observe premises, the law enforcement officers should move to public property (the street) and observe the premises.

6.3.4. In some circumstances, forced entry is necessary and appropriate. Forced entry may be appropriate when the residence area shows signs of a fight or scuffle; or when a person from inside the residence calls for assistance or is yelling; or when a person from inside is visible and the law enforcement officers observe that the person is wounded, injured, or is otherwise in need of assistance.

6.4. Establishing control of scene.

6.4.1. Once at the immediate scene of the incident, the responding law enforcement officers should establish control by:

6.4.1.a. Identifying and securing potential weapons in the surroundings;

6.4.1.b. Separating the victim and the accused when circumstances are appropriate;

6.4.1.c. Assessing injuries (including inquiry about possible internal injuries), administering first aid, and/or notifying emergency medical services;

6.4.1.d. Identifying all occupants and witnesses on the premises; and,

6.4.1.e. Separating occupants and witnesses from the victim and accused and keeping them out of hearing range (to avoid compromising their witness status).

6.5. On-scene investigation.

6.5.1. The law enforcement officers should conduct an investigation using the same procedures that the law enforcement officers would use in any other on-scene criminal investigation. While conducting the investigation the law enforcement officers should attempt to establish the existence of credible corroborative evidence. The law enforcement officers should make specific note of and document all statements made by the victim, accused and all witnesses, particularly those statements that may be admissible as evidence as exceptions to the hearsay rule such as excited utterances, present sense impression and statements made for medical treatment. The law enforcement officers should also determine if such statements were made to the dispatcher and take appropriate measures to secure and preserve such evidence.

6.5.2. The law enforcement officers should ensure the victim's safety and privacy by interviewing the victim in an area apart from the accused, witnesses, and bystanders if possible.

6.5.3. In questioning the victim, the law enforcement officers should use supportive interview techniques. The law enforcement officers should ask the victim about previous domestic incidents and their frequency and severity. The law enforcement officers should not tell the victim what action the law enforcement officers intend to take until all available information has been collected.

6.5.4. The law enforcement officers should interview the victim and/or any witnesses (including all child witnesses) as fully and as soon as circumstances allow, taking down names, addresses, and other relevant information. When interviewing the victim and/or any witnesses (including all child witnesses) law enforcement officers should determine whether the victim and/or any witnesses (including all child witnesses) allege facts that constitute all of the elements of assault or battery. If so, the law enforcement officers should inquire whether the victim and/or any witnesses are willing to sign a statement containing those facts. The law enforcement officers should also inquire about past abuse or other crimes to aid the law enforcement officers in evaluating the dangerousness of the accused. The law enforcement officers should proceed with the investigation even in the absence of a statement from either a victim and/or any witnesses (including child witnesses).

6.5.5. The responding law enforcement officers should interview the accused as fully as circumstances allow inquiring about the nature of the dispute. The law enforcement officers should be alert to possible incriminating statements.

6.5.6. In the collection of evidence and taking of statements, the law enforcement officers shall protect the constitutional rights of the accused in accordance with current laws and statutes of the state of West Virginia and of the United States.

6.5.7. Children should be interviewed in a manner appropriate to the child's age. Signs of trauma and any apparent healing wounds on the child should be noted by the law enforcement officers.

6.5.8. If the accused has fled the scene, the law enforcement officers should solicit information as to the possible whereabouts of the accused (place of employment, relatives, friends, etc.). The law enforcement officers should make reasonable efforts to locate and interview the accused as to any statements or evidence they may wish to provide prior to arrest or the obtaining of a warrant.

6.6. Enforcing any protective order.

6.6.1. If the dispatcher has not advised the law enforcement officers of the existence of a protective order or conditions of release on bail set in a crime against a family or household member, including children, or the existence of a protective order prohibiting the use or possession of a firearm or deadly weapon, the law enforcement officers should ask the victim whether there is an order or bail conditions. If so, the law enforcement officers should ask the victim if he or she can produce a copy of the protective order or bail document or identify the county and court or magistrate from which the order or document was issued. The law enforcement officers should attempt to contact the local law enforcement department specified by the victim to verify the existence of a valid protective order or contact the magistrate court to verify the conditions of release on bail. The law enforcement officers shall enforce all orders from the magistrate court or any court regardless of certification. Where the accused has been served with the protective order or has actual notice of the protective order, then the law enforcement officers shall follow the arrest authorization provisions as set forth in subdivisions 7.2.3. through 7.2.5. of this rule.

6.6.2. Where the accused has not been served and has not had actual notice of the order, if the law enforcement officers have a copy to serve upon the accused, they shall serve it. If the law enforcement officers do not have a copy to serve, then the law enforcement officers shall give the accused actual notice of the provisions of the order by stating the provisions of the order to the accused. If the accused, after having been served with or given actual notice of the order, then refuses to comply with the order, the law enforcement officers shall follow the arrest provisions as set forth in subdivisions 7.2.3. through 7.2.5. of this rule.

6.6.3. When the law enforcement officers observe any violations of a known bail condition in cases of crimes between family or household members, including family or household members who are children, the law enforcement officers shall arrest the accused for violations of the bail conditions; which may include the presence of the accused at the home of the victim.

6.6.4. The law enforcement officers shall enforce all protective or similar type orders that have been issued by a circuit judge, family court judge or magistrate, ~~or family law master~~ of this state, and from courts of another state, territory, or tribe.

6.7. Further on-scene investigation.

6.7.1. The law enforcement officers shall collect and preserve all physical evidence reasonably necessary to support prosecution, including evidence substantiating the victim's injuries, evidentiary articles that substantiate the attack (weapons, torn clothing, etc.), and evidence recording the crime scene. The law enforcement officers should ensure that photographs are taken of visible injuries on the victim and of the crime scene. All physical evidence shall be collected, noted in reports, and vouchered as in other criminal investigations. Sections 3 through 12 of this rule contain requirements for reporting and data collection.

6.7.2. The law enforcement officers should encourage the victim to seek medical attention for injuries that do not require emergency treatment at the scene. The law enforcement officers should inquire about injuries of the victim that are concealed by clothing or otherwise not readily apparent. The law enforcement officers should advise the victim to have photographs taken if injuries appear later.

§149-3-7. The Arrest Decision.

7.1. In most circumstances, ~~The responding law enforcement officers should~~ shall arrest the accused whenever arrest is authorized. ~~If the law enforcement officers decide not to arrest the accused, he or she must~~ no arrest is made, the law enforcement officers shall include in the report of the incident ~~a detailed~~ an explanation of the reasons why an arrest was not made.

7.2. Arrest is authorized in the following circumstances:

7.2.1. When the law enforcement officers have probable cause to believe that the accused has committed a felony;

7.2.2. When the law enforcement officers observe the commission of a felony or a misdemeanor;

7.2.3. Law enforcement officers observing the violation of a valid protective order, including the presence of the accused at a location prohibited by the protective order; issued by a circuit judge, family court judge or magistrate, ~~or family law master~~ of this state and from courts of another state, territory, or tribe; the officers shall arrest the accused provided the accused was served with the order or had actual notice of the order and its contents;

7.2.4. When the law enforcement officers observe any violation of a condition of bail, probation or parole, ~~condition~~ including the presence of the accused at the home of the victim in violation of the condition set in cases of crimes between family members, including family or household members who are children;

7.2.5. When the accused is alleged to have committed domestic assault and/or domestic battery or the violation of a valid protective order; issued by a circuit judge, family court judge or magistrate, ~~or family law master~~ of this state or from another state, territory, or tribe; law enforcement officers have authority to arrest the alleged perpetrator when:

7.2.5.a. The law enforcement officers have observed credible corroborative evidence that the offense has occurred and, either:

7.2.5.a.1. The law enforcement officers have received, from the victim or a witness, a verbal or written allegation of facts constituting a violation of a domestic assault or domestic battery or violation of a valid protective order; or,

7.2.5.a.2. The law enforcement officers have observed credible evidence that the accused committed the offense;

7.2.6. When a misdemeanor or felony not included among those specified in subdivisions 7.2.2. through 7.2.5. of this rule has been committed and the law enforcement officers or another person obtains or has previously obtained an arrest warrant; or,

7.2.7. When a capias has been issued, or when a circuit judge has signed an attachment order.

7.3. The law enforcement officers ~~should~~ shall not consider the following factors in making the arrest decision:

7.3.1. The marital status of the parties;

7.3.2. The ownership or tenancy rights of either party;

7.3.3. Verbal assurances that the violence will stop;

7.3.4. A claim by the accused that the victim provoked or perpetuated the violence;

7.3.5. Speculation that the victim will not follow through or cooperate with criminal prosecution (whether based on prior incidents involving the same victim, the victim's hesitancy about pursuing prosecution, or any other factor);

7.3.6. The disposition of any previous police calls involving the same victim or accused;

7.3.7. Speculation that the arrest may not lead to a conviction;

7.3.8. The existence or nonexistence of a current protective order (except insofar as the violation of the order requires arrest);

7.3.9. Concern about reprisals against the victim;

7.3.10. Adverse financial consequences that might result from the arrest;

7.3.11. That the incident occurred in a private place; or,

7.3.12. The racial, cultural, social, political, or professional position, or sexual orientation of either the victim or the accused.

7.4. It is the law enforcement officers' and/or prosecuting attorney's responsibility to decide whether an arrest should be made unless law enforcement officers are required to make an arrest for violation of a valid protective order and/or a violation of the terms and conditions of bail, probation or parole on a charge of a crime against a family or household member. The law enforcement officers, therefore, should not consider the victim's opposition to arrest and should emphasize to the victim, and to the accused as well, that the criminal action thus initiated is the state's action, not the victim's action.

7.5. If law enforcement officers receive complaints of domestic or family violence from two or more opposing persons, the law enforcement officers shall evaluate each complaint separately to determine who was the primary aggressor. If the law enforcement officers determine that one person was the primary aggressor, the law enforcement officers ~~need not arrest the other person believed to have committed domestic or family violence~~ shall arrest the primary aggressor only. In determining whether a person is the primary aggressor the law enforcement officers should consider, among other things:

7.5.1. Prior complaints of domestic or family violence;

7.5.2. The relative severity of the injuries inflicted on each person;

7.5.3. The likelihood of future injury to each person; and,

7.5.4. Whether one of the persons acted in self-defense.

7.6. Law enforcement officers shall not:

7.6.1. Threaten, suggest, or otherwise indicate the possible arrest of all parties to discourage requests for intervention by law enforcement by any party; or,

7.6.2. Base the decision to arrest on:

7.6.2.a. The specific consent or request of the victim; or,

7.6.2.b. The law enforcement officers' perception of the willingness of a victim of or witness to domestic or family violence to testify or otherwise participate in a judicial proceeding.

7.7. In addition to any other report required, law enforcement officers who do not make an arrest after investigating a complaint of domestic or family violence or who arrest two or more persons for a crime involving domestic or family violence, shall submit a written report setting forth the grounds for not arresting or for arresting both parties.

7.8. The law enforcement officers shall arrest for the commission of a crime of domestic or family violence.

7.8.1. The law enforcement officers shall seize all deadly weapons that are alleged to have been involved or threatened to be used in the commission of domestic or family violence, including those firearms held in violation of a protective order prohibiting possession of a firearm; and,

7.8.2. May seize a weapon that is in plain view of the officers or was discovered pursuant to a consensual search, as necessary for the protection of the officers or other persons.

7.9. Notwithstanding the issue of violation of the West Virginia Code §61-7-7, the possession of a firearm by a person subject to a valid protective order, is also a violation of federal law and should be referred to federal authorities.

7.10. Notwithstanding the issue of violation of the state law, the crossing or causing the crossing of a state line or territory or tribal boundary to violate a valid protective order is a violation of federal law and should be referred to federal authorities.

7.11. Notwithstanding the issue of violation of the state law, the crossing or causing the crossing of a state line or territory or tribal boundary to commit domestic violence is a violation of federal law and should be referred to federal authorities.

§149-3-8. Effectuating the Arrest.

8.1. Persons arrested pursuant to subdivision 7.2. of this rule, shall be taken before a magistrate within the county in which the offense charged is alleged to have been committed in a manner consistent with the provisions of Rule 1 of the Administrative Rules for the Magistrate Courts of West Virginia.

8.2. The risk is high in domestic violence cases that the accused will return to the victim's residence or the scene of the violence. If the accused has fled the scene, the law enforcement officers should initiate procedures to pursue and apprehend the accused as promptly as possible if the presence of the accused in the vicinity represents a continuous threat to the safety of the victim and/or other members in the household. If a warrant is necessary, the law enforcement officers should obtain and execute the warrant as soon as practical.

8.3. When the accused is a minor (under 18 years of age), the provisions of this rule are fully applicable, except that the law enforcement officers should arrest and process the juvenile pursuant to W. Va. Code §49-5-1 et. seq.

§149-3-9. Procedure when Arrest is not Authorized or, if Authorized, is not Made.

9.1. If an arrest is not authorized because of the absence of probable cause to believe that a crime was committed, or if arrest is authorized but not made (for reasons to be ~~detailed~~ included in the incident report), the law enforcement officers should:

9.1.1. Explain to the victim the reasons that an arrest is not being made;

9.1.2. Advise the victim of the applicability of criminal laws, procedures for filing a criminal complaint, the availability of a petition for a protective order, the procedures for filing a petition, and the remedies an order may contain;

9.1.3. Encourage the victim to contact the nearest available domestic violence program for information regarding ~~counseling and other~~ services available to victims of domestic violence;

9.1.4. Advise the victim that the law enforcement officers will provide transportation for or facilitate transportation of the victim to a shelter or the appropriate court when reasonable cause exists to believe that the victim suffered or is likely to suffer physical injury.

9.1.5. Provide transportation for or facilitate transportation of the victim upon the request of the victim to a shelter or the appropriate court when reasonable cause exists to believe the victim has suffered or is likely to suffer physical injury.

9.2. The law enforcement officers should not become involved in the disposition of personal property, the ownership of which is in dispute except as provided in subdivision 9.3. of this section. In the absence of an arrest, the law enforcement officers should remain neutral and be concerned primarily with maintaining the peace and safety of those persons present.

9.3. The law enforcement officers shall provide for the safety of the parties when they are ordered to accompany one or both of the parties to obtain personal property or other items from a location, including temporary possession of motor vehicles owned by either or both of the parties.

§149-3-10. Other On-Scene Assistance to Victims and Dependents.

10.1. Whether or not an arrest is made, the responding law enforcement officers should not leave the scene of the incident until the situation is under control and the likelihood of immediate violence has been eliminated. The law enforcement officers should stand by for a reasonable period of time while victims or other persons desiring to leave gather necessities for short-term absences from home, such as clothing, medication, and necessary documents.

10.2. Whether or not an arrest is made, the responding law enforcement officers are required by W. Va. Code ~~§48-27-702~~ ~~48-2A-9b~~ to notify the victim orally or in writing of the availability of a shelter, including its telephone number, or other services in the community, and of civil and criminal remedies.

10.3. If an arrest is made or an arrest warrant obtained, the law enforcement officers should:

10.3.1. Advise the victim of what procedure will happen next, including the probability that the accused will be in custody for only a short period of time; and

10.3.2. Obtain from the victim information to be included in the arrest report indicating any special conditions of bail that should be requested at the initial appearance before the magistrate (i.e., places where the accused should be specifically prohibited from appearing).

10.4. Law enforcement officers responding to an alleged incident of abuse shall inform the parties to the incident of the availability of the possible remedies provided by the Prevention of Domestic Violence Act (W. Va. Code §48-27-101 48-2A-1 et. seq.) and the possible applicability of criminal laws.

10.5. Law enforcement officers responding to an alleged incident of abuse shall, in addition to providing the information required in subdivision 10.4. of this rule, provide transportation for or facilitate transportation of the victim, upon the request of the victim, to a shelter or the magistrate court when there is reasonable cause to believe that the victim has suffered or is likely to suffer physical injury.

10.6. Elderly victims or physically dependent victims.

10.6.1. When a victim of domestic violence is elderly or physically dependent, the accused is the sole caretaker and an arrest is indicated, or when the victim of domestic violence is the sole caretaker of an elderly or of a physically dependent person, and the victim can no longer provide care (as, for example, when the victim is hospitalized), the responding law enforcement officers should determine whether the elderly or physically dependent person is physically endangered, either as a result of the abuse, a pre-existing medical condition, or the absence of a caretaker. If the elderly or physically dependent person is physically endangered and mentally alert, the law enforcement officers should ask the elderly or physically dependent person for the name of a relative or friend who can be contacted immediately to assist the elderly or physically dependent person. The law enforcement officers shall facilitate transportation of the elderly or physically dependent person to a relative or friend, if one can be found.

10.6.2. If there is no one available to assist the elderly or physically dependent person, or if the elderly or physically dependent person appears not to be mentally alert, the law enforcement officers should make an emergency referral to Adult Protective Services. The law enforcement officers should remain at the residence until the Adult Protective Services worker arrives, or should transport the elderly or physically dependent person to a medical facility, or other appropriate place where the elderly or physically dependent person can wait for the worker.

10.6.3. In addition to providing the notification required by other provisions of this rule, the law enforcement officers should advise the elderly or physically dependent person of the availability of protective services through Adult Protective Services.

10.7. Child victims and dependents.

10.7.1. When the victim of abuse is a minor child, the law enforcement officers ~~should~~ shall arrest the accused if the law enforcement officers observe the commission of a crime and shall report to Child Protective Services, as required by W. Va. Code §49-6A-2 et seq. If the child is physically injured, the law enforcement officers should facilitate the transportation of the child to the nearest hospital for treatment. The law enforcement officers should provide the victim notification, as described in this rule, to an adult caretaker of the child who is not the perpetrator of the abuse.

10.7.2. If the accused is arrested and was the sole caretaker of a child, and/or if the victim is the sole caretaker of a child and can no longer provide care (as, for example, when the victim is hospitalized), or ~~if in cases where both caretakers are arrested~~, the law enforcement officers ~~should~~ may determine whether there is a responsible relative who can care for the child and, if so, ~~should~~ may contact that relative and await the relative's arrival, or the law enforcement officers may contact Child Protective Services and remain at the residence until a protective services worker arrives or take the child into custody pursuant to the Child Welfare Law (W. Va. Code §49-5-8 and 49-6-9). If no responsible relative is available, the law enforcement officers should contact Child Protective Services and remain at the residence until a protective services worker arrives or should take the child into custody pursuant to the Child Welfare Law (W. Va. Code §49-5-8 and 49-6-9).

§149-3-11. Processing the Accused.

11.1. A person arrested for violation of a protective order ~~should~~ shall be charged with any crimes properly charged as a result of the incident in which the violation occurred.

11.2. The accused shall be taken before a magistrate in the county in which the offense charged is alleged to have been committed in a manner consistent with the provisions of Rule 1 of the Administrative Rules for the Magistrate Courts of West Virginia for initial appearances in criminal cases.

11.3. The arresting law enforcement officers may inform the magistrate or court of any circumstances surrounding the arrest of the accused which would have an effect on conditions of bail, provided that the amount and conditions of bail are a judicial decision that rests solely with the magistrate or court.

§149-3-12. Reporting.

12.1. A Domestic Violence Incident Report, as required by W. Va. Code §48-27-801 48-2A-9, shall be completed by the law enforcement officers responding to any call covered by this rule.

12.2. Data collection.

12.2.1. All written reports on the same person shall be kept together or cross-referenced so that repeat domestic violence can be monitored.

12.2.2. The written report, or another document (such as an index card) or computer entry generated from the written report, shall become a domestic violence tracking report.

12.2.3. To the extent possible, the domestic violence tracking report shall be accessible to dispatchers and law enforcement officers.

LEGISLATIVE RULE
GOVERNOR'S COMMITTEE ON CRIME, DELINQUENCY AND CORRECTION

SERIES 3
PROTOCOL FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT RESPONSE

PUBLIC COMMENT AND RESPONSE

The West Virginia Division of Criminal Justice Services filed the Legislative Rule entitled Protocol For Law Enforcement Response To Domestic Violence with the Secretary of State's Office for written comment. The comment period for proposed changes to this rule ended on July 15, 2004, at 5:00 p.m. The Division received comments from First Sergeant M. G. Corsaro, Planning Officer, West Virginia State Police, by direction of the Superintendent. This was the only agency commenting. These comments were as follows:

Comment	Response/Action
Comment #1.0 "4.2.1 – This is the first of several uses of the term "probable cause" throughout the context of the proposed rule. While the context of the term throughout its usage in the rule indicates that there is less than substantial, corroborative evidence when dealing with the existence or duration of a Protective Order, the term "probable cause" itself requires that there be more than reasonable grounds to believe or more than just a bare suspicion to believe that an order does in fact exist or is valid. The level of corroboration to achieve "probable cause" is a higher standard to achieve legally than just a reasonable suspicion which is the term that more appropriately describes the level of evidence that seems to be the intent of this proposed rule."	Response/Action #1.0 West Virginia Code §48-28-4. establishes "probable cause" as the standard of belief; therefore, the rule must adhere to that same standard. Comment #1.1

"4.4.1.b – This section indicates that "in circumstances whereby a written protection order is not presented, other credible information gives probable cause to believe that the order is currently in effect." Without verifiable, credible information, a law enforcement officer cannot achieve a legally definable level of probable cause, but could achieve a level if based upon reasonable grounds or reasonable suspicion."

Response/Action #1.1

West Virginia Code §48-28-4. establishes "probable cause" as the standard of belief; therefore, the rule must adhere to that same standard. However, in an attempt to make the rule clearer and more easily understood, changes were made to the rule with regard to subsection 4.4.1. by combining subsections 4.4.1. and 4.4.1.a., and adding language to more closely resemble West Virginia Code as written. By doing so, it is staff's opinion that it has sufficiently addressed concerns articulated by the commenting agency with regard to the use of the term "probable cause" throughout the rule.

Furthermore, the use of the term "probable cause" in subsections 4.2.1. and 4.2.2. have been determined unnecessary and confusing and have been omitted.

Comment #1.2

"7.1 – This section provides a statement that appears to be contradictory. "The responding law enforcement officers shall arrest the accused whenever arrest is authorized. If no arrest is made, the law enforcement officers shall include in the report of the incident an explanation of the reasons why an arrest was not made." If the officers have no discretion to not arrest a suspect – then they cannot list in the report a valid reason not to arrest. Either the officers must be given the discretion to effect an arrest by changing the word "shall" to "should", or the officers should only articulate in the report why an arrest was not authorized."

Response/Action #1.2

Staff concurs with this comment and has made appropriate changes to subsection 7.1. These changes recognize the fact that there may be times; regardless how infrequent, that an arrest may be authorized yet not made. Language has been added which corrects this oversight.
