FOR WEST VIRGINIA BOARD OF EDUCATION POLICY

Policy Number and Title:

Policy 5100: Approval of Educational Personnel Preparation Programs

Background:

- The Legislature amended W.Va. Code §18A-3-1a, by House Bill 2528, to provide greater flexibility in the alternative preparation of general education teachers. Amendments to W.Va. Code §18A-3-1a also provides the WVBE authority to approve alternative preparation programs for special education teachers.
- The Reauthorization of IDEA includes the definition of highly qualified special education teacher. In response to this definition, changes to special education preparation programs are necessary.
- WVBE Policy 5202 is being revised in conjunction with Policy 5100.

Major Revisions:

- Section 6.3.2. Standards for subject-area content in secondary-level teacher preparation programs have been added to ensure that secondary-level preparation programs include the equivalent of a degree major in the content area for which an individual is seeking certification. This addition aligns with the West Virginia Higher Education Policy Commission's Rule 46 which requires all secondary-level teacher preparation programs offered at public institutions of higher education to include the equivalent of a degree major.
- Section 6.3.3. In response to suggestions from the Math Task Force, requirements for mathematics in elementary and middle-level teacher preparation programs are included within this section.
- Section 6.3.4. To ensure that all teacher preparation programs include instruction in reading and the teaching of reading, semester hour requirements have been added within this section.
- Section 6.3.5. Given the recent reauthorization of IDEA and the need for all teachers to have the knowledge and skills necessary to teach all students, requirements for all programs to contain instruction in special education have been included.
- Section 6.4.2.c.B. In past revisions, specifications regarding field experiences and clinical practice for programs with the K-Adult programmatic level were not specified. Those requirements have been added.
- Section 7.2. Revisions were made to the program requirements for alternative preparation programs for general education teachers based upon recent revisions to W. Va. Code §18A-3-1a.

- Section 8. A new section outlining the requirements for alternative preparation programs for special education teachers has been added based upon recent revisions to W. Va. Code §18A-3-1a.
- Section 10.2.11. Additional language has been added to this section to define “substantive” program modifications to ensure that major program changes are reviewed and recommended (or not recommended) to the WVBE for approval.
- Section 10.4. Preschool education has been added as an additional specialization which may be taken in conjunction with early education and preschool special needs to create more options for teachers and greater flexibility for school districts.
- Section 10.4.6. In response to the reauthorization of IDEA and the requirements for highly qualified special education teachers, language has been struck which provides for special education programs at the graduate level to be completed without also completing a content specialization.
- Appendix A-1. In order to remain current with national trends in teacher education and to help ensure graduates of WVBE-approved teacher preparation programs are prepared to teach in the classrooms of today and the future, the skills identified in Learning for the 21st Century have been included as requirements for institution’s conceptual frameworks.
- Appendix A-2. In order to remain current with national trends in teacher education and to help ensure that graduates of WVBE-approved teacher preparation programs are prepared to teach all students, the INTASC standards have been included as standards which all teacher preparation programs must meet.
- Appendix C. The current technology objectives have been updated to the National Education Technology Standards for Teachers provided by the International Society for Technology in Education.
- Appendix D. Programmatic levels for some areas of special education have been modified in response to the need for content and special education preparation for all special education teachers.
- Appendix E. Additional requirements (i.e., semester hours in reading, literacy development, positive behavioral interventions and supports, consultation) have been added for special education teacher preparation programs.

Impact:

- Institutions of higher education which currently offer WVBE-approved teacher preparation program will have to revise their current approved programs to align with the proposed requirements for all teacher preparation programs.
- All teacher candidates will complete coursework in special education as a means for ensuring that all graduates are equipped with the knowledge and skills necessary to teach all students.
- Alternative preparation programs for both general and special education teachers will be developed and implemented as additional routes for individuals to complete to become certified and highly qualified to teach in the public schools of West Virginia.

§126-114-1. General.

1.1. Scope. - This legislative rule establishes the process for developing, implementing, and receiving West Virginia Board of Education, hereinafter WVBE, approval to operate an educational professional preparation program leading to West Virginia licensure in an institution of higher education.

1.2. Authority. - W.Va. Constitution, Article XII, §2 and W.Va. Code §§18-2-5, and 18A-3-1a, 18A-3-2b, and 18A-3-10.

1.3. Filing Date. - ~~September 13, 2004~~

1.4. Effective Date. - ~~October 13, 2004~~

1.5. Repeal of Former Rule.- This legislative rule amends W.Va. §126CSR114, West Virginia Board of Education Policy 5100 - Approval of Educational Personnel Preparation Programs filed ~~May 19, 2003~~ September 13, 2004 and effective ~~June 18, 2003~~ October 13, 2004.

§126-114-2. Summary.

2.1. This rule outlines the framework for developing, implementing and approving educational personnel preparation programs. Major program components are defined, assessment instruments and/or procedures are identified, and the minimum proficiency levels are prescribed for the WVBE adopted instruments. Program approval criteria for program implementation are also identified.

§126-114-3. Purpose.

3.1. The purposes of this policy are to: a) establish a collaborative process for program approval; b) improve educational personnel preparation programs and potential educational personnel by incorporating program guidelines based on research and best practices; c) ensure that those who are prepared for employment in the public schools have the skills, dispositions, and knowledge necessary to function as entry-level members of the profession; and d) ensure that higher education institutions work collaboratively with the public schools in designing and delivering professional educator preparation experiences to increase student achievement through written agreements with public schools. This policy relates only to the approved teacher education program element of licensure. Hence, the policy does not supersede any licensure requirements mandated by West Virginia Code and/or WVBE rules outlined in W.Va. §126CSR136, West Virginia Board of Education Policy 5202 - Minimum Requirements for the Licensure of Professional/Paraprofessional Personnel and Advanced Salary Classifications.

3.2. This policy commits the WVBE to develop, revise or adopt the program objectives, assessment instruments, and proficiency levels for the professional preparation of educational personnel through a collaborative effort involving the West Virginia Commission for Professional Teaching Standards, hereinafter WVCPTS, the West Virginia Department of Education, hereinafter WVDE, the governing boards for public and private West Virginia institutions of higher education, public school administrators, and classroom teachers.

§126-114-4. Authority of the WVBE.

4.1. All educational personnel preparation programs that result in West Virginia licensure require the approval of the WVBE. This approval requirement applies to new and continuing programs and to any institution seeking initial approval to offer educational personnel preparation programs.

4.2. The WVBE shall adopt standards and procedures for the approval of educational personnel preparation programs that enable prospective educators who satisfactorily complete such programs and licensure requirements to be licensed in West Virginia.

4.3. The WVBE establishes the WVCPTS to serve as its advisory body on matters related to the preparation of educational personnel. The WVBE shall establish regular communications with the WVCPTS and may solicit its recommendations prior to taking official action on educational personnel preparation policies. (See W.Va. §126CSR154 West Virginia Board of Education Policy 5050 - West Virginia Commission for Professional Teaching Standards.)

4.4. The WVBE acknowledges that the governing boards of public higher education institutions and the appropriate governing body of a private higher education institution may establish standards and accreditation procedures, including a requirement that the institution(s) attain National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education, hereinafter NCATE, accreditation for the teacher education programs under their respective jurisdictions. The WVBE pledges its cooperation with the governing boards or bodies and the institutions under their control in establishing jointly agreed to program review procedures pursuant to §126-114-12.4. that: a) respect any applicable standards or accreditation procedures, whether established by the WVBE or the higher education governing board(s) or body(ies) and b) emphasize cooperation, minimize duplication, and specify the process and materials to be covered in the review.

5.5. Collaborative Program. - Approved educational personnel preparation program that is delivered as the result of a formal written agreement between two or more West Virginia institutions of higher education to enable prospective educators to receive licensure in a content specialization that is not available at the home institution and that is approved for the cooperating institution.

The training activities~~ are structured to ensure significant exposure to diverse (multi-cultural), at-risk and special needs learners. Significant field experiences are those experiences completed under the direction of the institution and cooperating teacher. The experiences are arranged by the institution with the cooperating teachers such that the cooperating teachers have a thorough understanding of the institution's expectations for the candidates during the experiences. During such experiences teacher candidates should work directly with students (i.e., plan and teach lessons).

5.9. License. - The term used for any or all of the documents issued by the State Superintendent of Schools under state law and regulations of the WVBE that empower the holder to perform designated services within the public schools.

During the "Initial Approval Status" stage, the institution may recommend graduates for West Virginia certification. At the end of the ~~five~~seven-year "Initial Approval Status" period, the institution will receive another visit from the WVDE at which time a final recommendation will be made to the WVBE to reclassify the status of the institution to "Continuing Approval Status."

5.13.2. Continuing Approval Status. - This term applies to all West Virginia Higher Education institutions that have a currently approved program with the WVBE. §126-114-6. Professional Educator Preparation Program Requirements: Teacher.

6.1. Program Components. - All teacher preparation programs, at both undergraduate and graduate levels, shall consist of three (3) components: preprofessional skills, content specialization, and professional education. The three (3) components, including the associated educational technology knowledge and skills, are necessary to satisfy WVBE-approved program requirements.

6.2. Preprofessional Skills Component.

6.2.1. Component Description. - Preprofessional skills are those basic skills crucial to an educator's performance and effectiveness. Competence in these skills underlies an educator's ability to comprehend, utilize, analyze, synthesize, evaluate, and communicate information. Preprofessional skills common to educational personnel are: reading, writing, mathematics, speaking, listening and educational technology. Component descriptions for reading, writing and mathematics are found in the study guide "Test at a Glance" for the Praxis I, Pre-Professional Skills Tests (PPST). Preprofessional skills for speaking and listening are found in Appendix B.

Educational technology knowledge and skills related to this component are found in Appendix C.

6.2.2. Educator's Assessment and Proficiency Levels. - The educator's preprofessional skills in reading, writing and mathematics shall be assessed by using the Educational Testing Service's PPST. The WVBE shall establish the acceptable levels of performance on the PPST in reading, writing, and mathematics. See Appendix E for currently approved ACT and SAT scores. Waivers a and c do not apply to the institution's required assessments of speaking, listening and educational technology knowledge and skills. Individuals who currently hold or have held a West Virginia professional teaching, administrative or student support services license are not required to complete any of the preprofessional skills assessments.

6.3. Content Specialization Component.

6.3.1. Component Description. - Content specialization pertains to the specific teaching, administrative, or student support specialization(s) listed on a professional license in accordance with W.Va. Code §18A-3-1. See Appendix E for specific guidelines related to items a-g below for each specialization with the potential for approved program status. WVBE-approved specializations and grade level patterns are found in Appendix D. The content specialization program standards shall include:

- a. WVBE recognized national Content Specialization Standards for the public school curriculum pertaining to the specialization.
- b. WVBE policies or legislative initiatives that have implications for the teaching specialization.
- c. WVBE adopted content standards for the public school curriculum pertaining to the specialization standards.

§126CSR114

d. Content description(s) for the Praxis II tests identified for the specialization in West Virginia licensure requirements.

e. Institutionally identified content standards.

f. Preparation standards promulgated by national professional associations for specific specializations.

g. Educational technology skills and knowledge related to specializations offered by the institution. (See Appendix C)

h. Basic skills for designated special education specializations. In addition to the source(s) for the WVBE content program standards as outlined in Appendix E, a candidate for licensure in behavior disorders, mentally impaired (mild/moderate), specific learning disorders and multicategorical must complete preparation in basic skills. The institution, using the West Virginia content standards in W.Va. §126CSR42 WVBE Policy 2510 - Assuring the Quality of Education: Regulations for Education Programs for grades 5-9 in reading, language arts and mathematics, will transform these content standards into course objectives for its teacher education candidates. All candidates who hold or will qualify for the elementary education or early childhood specialization have satisfied the basic skills within the program specialization requirements. Candidates who hold or complete a single subject specialization in grades PreK-Adult, 5-Adult, 5-9, or 9-Adult are required to satisfy the knowledge requirement for teaching the basic skills in addition to the special education content specialization program requirements.

6.3.2. Standards for Subject-Area Content in Secondary-Level Teacher Preparation Programs.

a. Secondary-level teacher preparation programs shall provide that their secondary-level programs (those programs emphasizing the secondary-level grades and including licensure to teach grades 10-12) in core academic areas require at least the equivalency of corresponding content majors in terms of academic rigor and credit hours completed in content areas.

b. Secondary-level education certification areas for which equivalency in content majors would be required are: biology, business education, chemistry, English, French, German, Japanese, general science, Latin, mathematics, modern foreign languages, physics, Russian, Spanish, and social studies.

c. Each secondary-level certification area referenced in Section 6.3.2.b. must include an equivalent number of credit hours of subject area content course work to the institution's baccalaureate major in the corresponding content field, with the following exceptions:

A. For a baccalaureate major in a content field in which the credit hours for content course work exceed 48 hours, the number of content credit hours in the corresponding secondary-level teacher preparation program shall not be less than 48 credit hours.

B. For secondary-level teacher preparation programs in social studies and general science, areas in which there is typically no corresponding baccalaureate degree, the minimum number of required credit hours in the content area shall not be less than 48. While the number of content hours in other secondary-level teacher preparation programs for certification areas listed in Section 6.3.2.b. is to be at least the equivalent of corresponding baccalaureate degrees, in no instance shall the number of credit hours in the content area of a secondary-level teacher preparation program be less than 36.

d. Each secondary-level certification area referenced in Section 6.3.2.b. must meet expectations of academic rigor similar to that of the corresponding baccalaureate degree programs. While the subject-area curriculum of the teacher preparation program may vary somewhat from the subject-area curriculum of the baccalaureate degree program, it must include some form of culminating educational experience in the content area, such as a capstone course. At the discretion of the institution, the curriculum may include applied courses in the content areas as deemed appropriate.

e. All content course work in a secondary-level teacher preparation program must be taught by faculty with appropriate in-field academic credentials. Typically, the faculty would serve in the academic department.

6.3.3. Mathematics Content in Teacher Preparation.

a. Each elementary (K-6) teacher preparation must contain:

A. a minimum of nine hours of college-level mathematics courses, including a course in college algebra, AND

B. a three-hour course in mathematics methods.

b. Each middle school (5-9) mathematics program must contain:

A. a minimum of twenty-one hours of college-level mathematics, including a course in college algebra, AND

B. a three-hour course in mathematics methods.

6.3.4. Reading Content in Teacher Preparation.

a. Each elementary education (K-6) teacher preparation program must contain a minimum of 9 hours of reading.

b. Each middle (5-9) and secondary (5-Adult, 9-Adult) preparation program must contain a minimum of three hours of reading in the content area.

6.3.5. Special Education Content in Teacher Preparation.

a. All general education preparation programs must contain a minimum of 6 hours of preparation in special education, including a focus on the impact of each disability, the use of evaluation data generated from special education to assist with instruction, and the effective and efficient use of consultation.

b. All general education preparation programs must address the differentiation of instruction for diverse learners.

6.3.26. Educator's Assessment and Proficiency Levels. - Candidates for completion of a West Virginia approved program shall be required to meet WVBE Praxis II specialty area test score(s), if adopted, indicated for the anticipated specialization(s). A listing of current WVBE- required tests and passing scores is found in Appendix E.

6.4. Professional Education Component.

6.4.1. Component Description. - Professional Education includes the studies and experiences that prepare the prospective educator to integrate professional pedagogy and content knowledge into successful learning experiences for students. Each institution is required to develop a conceptual framework rooted in the Conceptual Foundation for Teaching and Learning in West Virginia (See Appendix A-1) that establishes the shared vision for the unit's endeavor in preparing educators to work effectively in PreK-Adult schools. The conceptual framework shall include a description of its prospective professional educator by identifying the knowledge, skills, and dispositions it expects to develop and assess. The description will serve as the foundation on which the institution will base its curriculum and implement the clinical experiences for professional educators and student support personnel. The description shall reflect the appropriate West Virginia Professional Educator Standards listed in Appendices A-2 through A-4. The educational technology skills for this component are listed in Appendix C, Section 3.0.

6.4.2. Educator's Assessment and Proficiency Levels.

a. Professional Knowledge Assessment and Proficiency Levels. - Candidates completing a WVBE-approved teacher education program for any professional educator license shall pass a WVBE-adopted Principles of Learning and Teaching Praxis II test that includes at least a portion of the grade levels indicated on the anticipated license. (See Appendix E for a list of WVBE-required tests and passing scores.) The institution shall, with the cooperating public school(s), collaboratively establish the assessments and acceptable performance levels for the educational technology skills (See Appendix C, Sections 2.0 and 3.0) associated with the professional education component.

b. Performance Assessment Instruments. - Performance assessment instruments and procedures shall be collaboratively developed by public school administrators, classroom teachers, and teacher education faculty at the institutional level. The performance assessment instruments shall:

A. be consistent with relevant standards (i.e., West Virginia Professional Teaching Standards found in Appendix A-2, appropriate Professional Learned Society Standards, institution teacher preparation standards, etc.);

B. include performance criteria and performance indicators rooted in the relevant Standards;

C. address the knowledge, skills, and dispositions to be acquired by professional candidates as set forth in program goals;

D. have multiple means of measuring candidate performance and impact;

E. specify candidate performance expectations, and acceptable proficiency levels and designated benchmarks in the program; and

F. provide on-going, systematic information useful for decision-making.

c. Field-based and Clinical Experiences. - Each candidate completing an approved program shall spend a minimum of twelve weeks in the clinical portion of the program unless s/he is able to demonstrate to the satisfaction of the college supervisor and the cooperating public school supervisor that s/he has achieved the proficiency level in less than the specified time. The clinical experience must be completed in a public school. The candidate must be assessed during the clinical experience in at least one specialization for which s/he is requesting licensure. Any new content specialization recommended for implementation will be recommended for approval until the institution's next state on-site review. If the Program Review Board determines and verifies in its written report that a proposed new content specialization has serious weakness(es) or lacks verification that the standards have been met, the Program Review Board may withhold its recommendation for program implementation. When the findings in the State Team Report verify that a content specialization and/or its components have serious weaknesses or the program lacks adequate documentation validating that the program is in compliance with the West Virginia Educator Preparation Program Standards, the Program Review Board may withhold its recommendation to the WVBE to grant continuing program approval. ~~15~~16.1. Experimental Programs. - An institution currently operating approved educational personnel preparation programs may seek approval for an experimental personnel preparation program in a teaching, student support services or administrative area where there is no current WVBE approved specialization leading to West Virginia licensure provided the self-study contains sufficient justification to warrant the new specialization. The institution is encouraged to collaborate with the WVDE during the program's initial planning stage. The institution must identify the program objectives for the experimental program from which the curriculum shall be developed. All aspects for the review and approval of an experimental program, other than WVBE adopted program objectives, are the same as those outlined in §126-114-14 for a new content specialization. The experimental program's self-study must comply with the guidelines adopted by the WVDE.

for Teaching and Learning in West Virginia

Vision Statement

All students will achieve their maximum potential in order to become life-long learners and productive, responsible citizens. Therefore, it is fundamental to the interests of West Virginia's children to collaboratively maintain a thorough, efficient and accountable comprehensive educational system that meets the needs of West Virginia's future.

Core Beliefs

The education system in West Virginia is founded in the following beliefs about children, teaching, and learning:

- ~~All children are born with unique talents and abilities. Therefore, all children are entitled to a safe environment that nurtures those unique talents and abilities and incorporates the diversity of their experiences into the learning process.~~
- ~~All students are entitled to competent, caring and qualified teachers.~~
- ~~All students are entitled to a variety of quality programs and services provided through comprehensive staffing of the school system.~~
- ~~All students must acquire self-awareness skills to identify their individuality and to acknowledge and respect the diversity of other people.~~
- ~~All students must develop individual goals and strategies for achievement.~~

- Educational objectives and teaching strategies emphasize the integration of learning skills and 21st century tools, which comprises information, technology and communication (ITC) literacy.
- Learning skills and 21st century tools are used together to enable students to effectively build content knowledge.
- Through integrating learning skills and 21st century tools, students are able to do such things as access and communicate information, manage complexity, solve problems and think critically and creatively.
- 100% of students have access to 21st century tools.
- All assessment is learner-centered, formative, context-specific, ongoing and rooted in teaching strategies.
- All teachers use classroom assessments that demonstrate evidence of student performance in core subjects and 21st century skills.
- All teachers share with parents and students the information needed to monitor student progress in achieving learning goals.
- Students, teachers and parents always collaborate to monitor student progress in achieving learning goals and use assessment to evaluate long-term student progress.

As articulated in the reauthorizations of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, otherwise known as the No Child Left Behind Act, and the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, all teachers, including general and special education, need to complete rigorous preparation programs providing them with the knowledge, skills and dispositions necessary to teach all students, regardless of abilities and needs. As a response to this need, the Chief Council of State School Officers and the Interstate New Teacher Assessment and Support Consortium developed a set of ten principles which identify those areas in which a new teacher must be prepared as s/he begins her/his initial teaching experience. Each of the principles includes a descriptor of the implications for new teachers when delivering instruction to students with disabilities.

Principle #1: The teacher understands the central concepts, tools of inquiry, structures of the discipline(s) he or she teaches and can create learning experiences that make these aspects of subject matter meaningful for students.

Implications for students with disabilities: Teachers demonstrate an understanding of the primary concepts and ways of thinking and knowing in the content areas they teach as articulated in INTASC subject matter principles and other professional, state, and institutional standards. They understand the underlying values and implications of disability legislation and special education policies and procedures as they relate to their roles and responsibilities in supporting the educational needs of students with disabilities. All teachers provide equitable access to and participation in the general curriculum for students with disabilities.

Principle #2: The teacher understands how children learn and develop and can provide learning opportunities that support the intellectual, social, and personal development of each learner.

Implications for students with disabilities: Teachers understand that all children have similar patterns of learning and development that vary individually within and across cognitive, social, emotional, and physical areas. They recognize that children with disabilities may exhibit greater individual variation in learning and development than students without disabilities, and that a disability often influences development and functioning in more than one area. Teachers use the knowledge of the impact of disabilities on learning and development to optimize learning opportunities for each student.

Principle #3: The teacher understands how students differ in their approaches to learning and creates instructional opportunities that are adapted to diverse learners.

Implications for students with disabilities: Students with disabilities come from a variety of cultures, languages, classes, and ethnicities. Disability, like other aspects of diversity, may affect a student's approach to learning and a teacher's approach to teaching. Teachers understand students with disabilities within the broader context of their families, cultural backgrounds, socioeconomic classes, languages, communities and peer/social groups.

Principle #4: The teacher understands and uses a variety of instructional strategies to encourage students' development of critical thinking, problem solving, and performance skills.

Implications for students with disabilities: Ensuring that students with disabilities can participate successfully in the general curriculum requires teachers to tailor their instructional strategies to the particular learning needs of individual students. General and special education teachers use a variety of instructional strategies and technologies and know how to modify and adapt the general curriculum to accommodate individual students' needs. Students with disabilities who have goals related to an expanded curriculum will also need specialized instruction to achieve those goals.

Principle #5: The teacher uses an understanding of individual and group motivation and behavior to create a learning environment that encourages positive social interaction, active engagement in learning, and self-motivation.

Implications for students with disabilities: Students' affiliation and acceptance within a community is an important basis for developing social responsibility, self-esteem and positive peer relations. Students learn more effectively when they are valued members of a learning community in which everyone can learn and grow. Teachers welcome students with disabilities and take deliberate action to ensure they are included as members of the learning community. Teachers may also need to structure activities that specifically foster engagement, self-motivation and independent learning in students with disabilities.

Principle #6: The teacher uses knowledge of effective verbal, nonverbal, and media communication technologies to foster active inquiry, collaboration, and supportive interaction in the classroom.

Implications for students with disabilities: Students with disabilities often have communication or language delays or disorders associated with their disabilities. They may require multiple and alternative modes of communication. Teachers set a high priority on establishing a safe and comfortable environment in which students with disabilities are encouraged and supported to use language and contribute their ideas. They teach language and communication skills, make accommodations to promote effective communication, and encourage and support the use of technology to promote learning and communication.

Principle #7: The teacher plans instruction based on knowledge of subject matter, students, the community and curriculum goals.

Implications for students with disabilities: While students with disabilities often pursue the same learning goals within the general curriculum and benefit from instruction in a manner that is similar to that of their non-disabled peers, they may require adjustments in goals, teaching strategies, or supports. Some students with disabilities may require an expanded curriculum that may include areas such as functional life skills, communication skills, or behavioral/social skills. Planning for students with disabilities requires an individualized plan of instruction and is a collaborative process that involves special and general educators, the student (when appropriate), families, and other professionals.

Principle #8: The teacher understands and uses formal and informal assessment strategies to evaluate and ensure the continuous intellectual, social and physical development of the learner.

Implications for students with disabilities: Individualized comprehensive assessments are required for students with disabilities and are used to determine eligibility for special education services, to plan individualized instruction, and to monitor and evaluate student performance. It is also expected that students with disabilities will participate in the overall assessment programs of the classroom, school district, and state, and that they may require accommodations to demonstrate their knowledge and skills. In addition, some students with disabilities may require assessments related to achievement in an expanded curriculum (i.e. alternate assessments).

Principle #9: The teacher is a reflective practitioner who continually evaluates the effects of his/her choices and actions on others (students, parents, and other professionals in the learning community) and who actively seeks out opportunities to grow professionally.

Implications for students with disabilities: Teacher reflection is essential for designing, monitoring and adapting instruction for all students, including students with disabilities. Teachers reflect on their knowledge of the learning strengths and needs of individual students with disabilities, and question and evaluate the appropriateness and effectiveness of their instructional choices and practices for building on those strengths and meeting those needs. Based on their data-based reflections, teachers engage in actions that consistently support and promote the achievement of students with disabilities.

Principle #10: The teacher fosters relationships with school colleagues, families, and agencies in the larger community to support students' learning and well being.

Implications for students with disabilities: Families, schools, and communities are important contexts for teaching, learning, and development. Teachers advocate for students with disabilities to receive the support they need to be successful in the general curriculum and to achieve the goals of their individualized education plans. They collaborate with each other, with other professionals, and with families to ensure that students with disabilities are valued members of the classroom, school, and larger communities.

APPROVED PROGRAMS LEADING TO WEST VIRGINIA LICENSURE

DOCUMENTATION OF FOOTNOTES ON THE FOLLOWING TABLES

- * Indicates that the National Standards are used in the NCATE folio process.
- ¹ The test validity period is ten years from the date on which the candidate passed the examination. In those circumstances where the ~~West Virginia Board of Education~~ WVBE has not altered either the required test or the passing score, the test and score shall remain valid beyond the ten-year period. See section 89.5 in Policy 5100 for a more detailed explanation of testing requirements, particularly as they apply to experienced educators.
- ² The Pre-Professional Skills Test (PPST) [called Praxis I] may be waived provided the candidate:
a) holds a master's degree from an accredited institution of higher education; or b) currently holds, or has held, a West Virginia Professional Teaching, Student Support Services or Administrative Certificate; or c) has attained a score of 25 on the American College Testing (ACT) program prior to November 1989 or an enhanced ACT score of 26 beginning November 1989; or d) has attained a score of 1035 on the Scholastic Achievement Test (SAT) prior to April 1995 or a re-centered SAT score of 1125 beginning April 1995.

- ⁴ A candidate who has successfully completed the National Evaluation Systems (NES) test in behavior disorders, mentally impaired, or specific learning disabilities is not required to satisfy the Praxis II Education of Exceptional Students: Core Content Knowledge Test since it is assumed this content was included in the NES special education content test.
- ⁵ For general science in grades 5-Adult, a candidate may substitute 1) Test No. 0235 (Biology: Content Knowledge) taken for biology certification for Test No. 0231 and/or 2) Test No. 0245 (Chemistry: Content Knowledge) or Test No. 0265 (Physics: Content Knowledge) for Test No. 0481.
