APPROVAL OF FILING

Secretary of State
Building 1, Suite 157K
1900 Kanawha Blvd., East
Charleston, WV 25302-0770

Dear Secretary of State Manchin, III:

I hereby approve the filing of attached proposed legislative rule for the Board of Funeral Service Examiners, formerly the Board of Embalmers and Funeral Directors, effective June 9, 2002.

If you have any questions, please contact me at your convenience.

Sincerely,

Sherri Douglass
Executive Director

With the collaboration and assistance of the West Virginia Funeral Directors Association, this agency held several intense committee meetings since the passage of Senate Bill 742 to rewrite the existing rule relating to funeral homes. WVFDA was represented in each meeting and participated fully in this endeavor.

This industry has experienced several traumatic events over the past year and this agency is seeking to improve the regulatory process immediately, in order to provide more stability and better consumer protection. In doing so, we believe that we are providing our licensees with solid foundations to attain that goal. This rule provides flexibility and is not cost-prohibitive in any sense. For the most part, the emergency rule requires funeral homes to simply implement various procedures to protect the health and welfare of the people they serve.

Below is a summary of the changes that this emergency rule provides.

1. Definitions: new definition mostly to account for changes from SB 742.
2. Control of dead human bodies: allows funeral homes to establish their own policies regarding the viewing of an unembalmed body, provided that certain procedures are followed. This is a benefit to the funeral home, as it gives them flexibility in this area.
3. Advertising: eases the current advertising standard somewhat to accommodate the sale of goods, such as caskets. This change allows funeral homes to be competitive with other providers, like casket stores and cemeteries.
4. Embalming facilities/preparation rooms: Allows an existing funeral home to build a separate facility for purposes of embalming. Existing funeral homes are usually located in buildings which are small in size or are not conducive to renovation to make the facility "state of the art." By allowing existing funeral homes to build an off-site facility, it gives them the ability to have a high-tech preparation facility, which is better for public health.
5. Inspections: adds language to clarify how this agency can react when a facility is found to be in disrepair or unclean, as a means of protecting public health and the health of the funeral home's employees.
6. Fees: license fees are biennial now.
7. Continuing Education: allows flexibility for the providers to become certified to present any of its programs for a $100 fee or to have each program approved for free. A provider may opt to become certified in order to save staff time and money by no longer submitting applications constantly.
8. Inactive Licenses: outlines procedures for placing a license on inactive status.
9. Inspector and Investigator Qualifications: outlines necessary qualifications for these positions.
10. Identifying bodies: requires funeral homes to devise policies relating to identifying bodies and cremated remains. Provides flexibility in devising such policies, so long as the policies contain some specific content, outlined in the rule.
11. Permission to cremate: requires funeral homes to seek authorization from "authorized representative" of the deceased prior to cremation. The lack of such rule is a major deficiency.
12. Unclaimed remains: Provides a procedure for what to do in the event that a funeral home takes charge of an unclaimed body or unclaimed cremated remains. Without this, the funeral home is left to his/her own to determine what to do, how long to hold the body, when or if the body should be embalmed, etc.
13. Authorized representative: Based on a well-researched Minnesota law, the rule outlines a list of people who may make funeral arrangements for a deceased. This will definitely benefit the licensees, as they are often put in the middle of a family dispute.
14. Release of cremated remains: Provides a procedure for releasing cremated remains. Again, this benefits the licensees who don't really know how to handle this currently.

APPENDIX B

FISCAL NOTE FOR PROPOSED RULES

Rule Title: General Provisions

Type of Rule:  Legislative     Interpretive     Procedural

Agency: Board of Funeral Service Examiners (formerly Board of Embalmers & Fun. Dir.)

Address: 179 Summers Street, Suite 305
Charleston, WV 25301

1. Effect of Proposed rule:

	ANNUAL FISCAL YEAR
	INCREASE	DECREASE	CURRENT	NEXT	THEREAFTER
ESTIMATED TOTAL COST	$24,000		$101,000	$125,00	$126,000
PERSONAL SERVICES	$23,000		$53,000	$76,000	$76,000
CURRENT EXPENSE	$ 1,000		$48,000	$49,000	$50,000
REPAIRS &amp; ALTERATIONS	$ 1,000		>$200	$ 1,000	$ 2,000
EQUIPMENT	$ 4,000		>$500	$ 4,000	$ 2,000
OTHER

2. Explanation of Above Estimates:

It is anticipated that computer upgrades and purchases will be necessary. It is also anticipated that there will be an increased workload for inspectors and other personnel. This agency would also like to send employees to training conferences, something that has not been fiscally possible for nearly 2 years.

3. Objectives of These Rules:

To provide better consumer protection through more stringent inspections and thorough investigations of complaints.

To provide consumer education about the funeral industry in general as a means of providing better consumer protection.

To provide better consumer protection by giving licensees better tools and procedures.

Rule Title: General Provisions

4. Explanation of Overall Economic Impact of Proposed Rule:

A. Economic Impact on State Government:

This is a Non-appropriated Special Revenue Account which receives no funding from the state. Our revenue is generated through licensing fees other fees which we collect.

B. Economic Impact on Political Subdivisions; Specific Industries; Specific Groups of Citizens:

There will be a slight economic impact on the licensees. Individuals will pay on average $10 more per year per license. Businesses will pay on average $30-$50 more per year per license.

C. Economic Impact on Citizens/Public at Large.

There should be little or no impact on the public at large. Funeral businesses may seek to offset the fee increase by raising their prices. However, this should not have any real negative economic impact.
