SECTION 9: APPEALS PROCESS

- 9.1. An applicant for an initial PROMISE Scholarship award may appeal a denial of eligibility for the award. If the denial of eligibility was made by the applicant's high school the applicant must file his or her appeal at the school denying eligibility with the person designated by the school or school system to hear such appeals. Each school or school system shall designate an established procedure to hear such appeals in an expedited manner. If the denial of eligibility was made by the PROMISE Board the appeal must be filed with the Outreach Coordinator of the PROMISE Board.
- 9.2. Any appeal must be filed within ten (10) days of the applicant receiving notice that they are not eligible for an initial award. The appeal must detail in writing, and with specificity, the grounds supporting the appeal and a finding of eligibility. The person or persons hearing the appeal may require additional evidence or materials from the applicant or any other individual be submitted.

- 9.3. If the appeal is denied by a school or school system or the PROMISE Outreach Coordinator the reasons for the denial shall be communicated in writing to the applicant with an explanation of the reason for the denial. An appeal granted by a school or school system may be reviewed by the PROMISE Board and reversed if it was granted contrary to the eligibility standards set out in this rule or established by the PROMISE Board.
- 9.4. An applicant may appeal the denial of the appeal to the Executive Director of the PROMISE Board.
- 9.5. Any appeal to the Executive Director must be filed within fifteen (15) days of notification to the applicant that his or her initial appeal was denied. If the Executive Director denies the appeal the reasons for the denial shall be communicated in writing to the applicant with an explanation of the reason for the denial.
- 9.6. A student granted an initial PROMISE Scholarship may appeal a non-renewal of the award. Any such appeal must be filed within fifteen (15) days of notification to the student that he or she is not eligible for renewal of the award. The appeal is to be filed with the person designated at the institution of higher education where the student is enrolled. The appeal process at the institution shall be governed by an established procedure designated by the institution.
- 9.7. If the appeal of the non-renewal is denied by the institution the student may appeal that decision to the Executive Director at the PROMISE Board. The appeal must be filed within fifteen (15) days of notification to the student of denial of the institutional appeal and shall be heard in the same manner as appeals of denials of initial awards.
- 9.8. If a student with a PROMISE Scholarship is not eligible for renewal of the award because of failure to maintain academic progress they may not utilize the procedure set out herein to challenge any grade assigned them. Challenges to grades must be brought under established institutional procedures for grade appeals. The process set out above may only be utilized to challenge the application of the eligibility requirements to the grade or grades assigned. If a student is successful on a grade appeal, and the changing of the grade makes them eligible once again for renewal, they may petition the PROMISE Board for a renewal of the award retroactively.
