Register Life Support Equipment - If you or someone in your home uses medically prescribed electricity-powered life-sustaining equipment, such as a kidney dialysis machine, please let us know. Call the customer service number listed on your bill and we will guide you through the registration process.

While your power supply is very reliable, electricity voltage disturbances can happen. Surge protectors can absorb some of these various disturbances and help to protect your sensitive home electronics from possible damage; however, customers are responsible for providing suitable protective devices on all equipment to protect against loss, injury or damage. Talk to a professional to determine which type of protective device best meets your needs.
